A STRONG SERMON

"BE SURE YOUR SIN WILL FIND YOU OUT" DR. TORREY'S TEXT LAST NIGHT.

ANOTHER SPLENDID DISCOURSE

The Certainty of Physical Retribution Was Shown Most Convincingly by Evangelist—An Unusual Incident.

NOTES.

Mr. Butler made a great hit last night when he had two small girls sing a duet.

The name of one girl was Grace Strickland. We have failed to discover the other.

There are about twenty prayer meetings in the homes every morning.

Two services daily in the tabernacle, and one at 7 p. m. at First Baptist church.

The best work was done last night after the meeting.

An unusual and pleasing incident happened last evening during the song service preceding the sermon. The conductor of song, Mr. Butler, is a resourceful man, or as we would call it in the Scotch language, "A man of many parts."

After the audience had been won into a good humor by his enthusiastic leading he called upon those under 15 to sing the hymn by themselves. Dr. Torrey sang and also two young girls in the audience.

While the worthy doctor does not profess to be under 15, yet there has been a great deal of speculation as to his age. Then Mr. Butler asked the girls to come to the platform and promised them a hymn book if they would sing the duet from the raised pulpit. It was an inspiring sight to see the two young girls as they sang the piece together, and the large congregation burst into applause at their effort.

Dr. Torrey wrote his name in the hymn books and the girls returned to their seats proud of their reward. The best congregation of the week gathered last evening in the tabernacle. If these crowds keep coming it will be impossible to seat them by next Sunday night. Following is an outline of the fine sermon of last evening.

"Found Out."

"Be sure your sin will find you out."—Num. 32:23.

No one can escape his own sin. Every sin we commit will find us and call us to account and make us pay. No man ever committed a single sin that he did not pay for it in some way. No man ever committed a single sin by which he was not a loser. There never has been a sin committed on this earth that paid. The most stupendous folly of which a man can be guilty is for him to imagine that he can ever gain anything by doing wrong. I want to say to you tonight, "Be sure your sin will find you out." You can't escape it. You are bound to suffer by that sin. It is pretty sure if a man puts his hand in the fire he will be burned. It is absolutely certain that if a man sins he will suffer for it, and suffer for each individual sin he commits. No man can hide where his sin will not find him. Let me point some ways in which a man's sins find him out.

1. Men's sins find them out by the execution of human laws. The execution of law in human society is necessarily imperfect, and yet it is astonishing how surely men who break the laws are sooner or later brought to book. A man may successfully elude the meshes of the law for days, or weeks, or months, or years, but he is all the time weaving a net that will certainly entrap him at last.

2. Men's sins find them out in their own bodies. When a man does not pay the penalty of his sins before human courts, there is one court he cannot escape, the court of physical retribution for moral offenses. Not only do certain diseases follow in the train of certain sins, but in a general way there is the most intimate connection between morality and health. All sins have physical consequences. The man who sins will suffer for it in his body. His sin is bound to find him out. Take even such a sin as anger. Does that find a man out in his body? Surely. It disorders his blood, stomach, brain, nerves. It is demonstrably unhealthy in every case, and in many cases leads to paralysis and death. Man, if you are contemplating sin, just stop and think of this a moment, "Be sure your sin will find you out!" If nowhere else, in that body of yours. For every sin you commit, you will pay a physical penalty.

Sin finds us out in our characters. For every sin you commit you will suffer in character. Every sin breeds a moral ulcer. A festering body is not so bad as a festering character. You can't tell a lie but your moral blood is poisoned by it, and your moral constitution undermined. Do you think you can cheat a man in business and not suffer in your character more than he suffers in his

A CONSTABLE SHOT

JOHN L. JONES, PEACE OFFICER OF SMITHTON TOWNSHIP, THIS MORNING.

JOHN HAMILTON DID THE SHOOTING

He Is a Negro Former United States Soldier, and Was Brought to Sedalia and Committed to the County Jail.

In endeavoring to prevent an assault on Charles Lamm, a prosperous farmer living two and one-half miles east of Sedalia, this morning, John L. Jones, constable of Smithton township, was seriously injured by John Hamilton, a negro former United States soldier, and a brother of Will Hamilton, an ex-convict from the Missouri state penitentiary.

Jones was shot twice by Hamilton, once in the shoulder and once in the right side. Neither wound is considered dangerous. He was also struck on the back of the head with the butt of Hamilton's revolver, sustaining a probable fracture of the skull.

Hamilton was intoxicated at the time, and, with other workmen, was engaged in dismantling the Smithton Packing company's building, owned by the Lamm boys. Apparently harboring a groundless grudge, Hamilton secured a revolver and went to Charles Lamm to settle the grievance.

Insulting words followed the meeting, and Hamilton drew the revolver to shoot Lamm. Constable Jones, who was employed on the building at the time, ran to Mr. Lamm's assistance and interfered, getting between Hamilton and his intended victim.

Hamilton requested the officer to get out of the way, as he was going to shoot, and when Constable Jones did not do so he fired, with the foregoing result. He then began beating the officer with the butt of the revolver.

Will Lamm, a brother of the would-be victim of the assault, and Charles Lamm overpowered the negro and held him until the arrival of Sheriff M. T. Henderson, who drove to the scene, returning with the prisoner this afternoon.

Hamilton was lodged in the county jail, pending preliminary examination.

Constable Jones' injuries were dressed by Dr. Albers, who stated the gunshot wounds are not dangerous, but the injury to his head could not be determined at present.

PAID THE LAST TRIBUTE

The Burial of Charles Fleck, Sr., This Forenoon.

The last sad rites over the remains of Charles Fleck, sr., the veteran retired locomotive engineer, who was found dead in bed at his home Monday morning, were held at his late residence, 1003 East Third street, at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had charge of the services, C. W. Goodwin reviewing the life of the deceased in a touching manner.

At the grave John Reilley, of Parsons, Kan., made a few appropriate remarks in memory of the deceased.

The services were largely attended a large assemblage of relatives and friends being present, while the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, attesting slightly the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery by the side of the deceased's wife.

Mr. Fleck was a model citizen in all that the term implies, a man whose word was as good as his bond, and his demise is mourned by all who were honored by his acquaintance.

HEWES - GOODWIN

MARRIAGE OF MR. CLARENCE A. HEWES AND MISS MAY B. GOODWIN.

CEREMONY WAS SAID LAST NIGHT

Rev. W. A. McClanahan, of the Fifth Street Church, South—Many Beautiful Presents—Departed for Bridal Trip at Midnight.

Standing under a wedding bell in the parlor of her home, which was profusely decorated with cut flowers, ferns and plants, Miss May B Goodwin, one of Sedalia's sweetest and most charming young ladies, became the wife of Clarence A. Hewes, son of Dr. C. T. Hewes, of Quincy, Ill., at 8:30 o'clock last night.

The beautiful ring ceremony was carried out, little Kathryn Cadle being the ring bearer, while the Rev. W. A. McClanahan, pastor of the Fifth Street M. E. church, South, pronounced the words uniting the two as husband and wife.

In anticipation of the event, which was universally pronounced one of the prettiest weddings solemnized in Sedalia in years, the Goodwin home had been artistically decorated by Mrs. F. S. Leach, a huge wedding bell being suspended from one corner of the parlor.

Forming a background for the bridal couple were ferns and potted plants, while leading from the stairway to the wedding bell was an aisle of smilax, on either side of which stood Mrs. M. J. Mullen, Mrs. F. S. Leach, Miss Lillie Brandt and Miss Mildred Russell.

Before the pronunciation of the words by the officiating divine, solos were rendered by Mrs. J. J. Weber, Miss Lillie Brandt and George Ware, after which the wedding march was played by Miss Sara Payne, following which the bridal couple entered.

The ceremony was most beautiful and as the bride, attired in a gown of cream batiste, stood under the wedding bell, the concensus of opinion was that she was one of the most beautiful brides Sedalia has ever seen.

Following the wedding, a dainty luncheon was served by the mother of the bride, and the couple left at midnight for St. Louis and Quincy to spend their honeymoon, after which they will go to Cotter, Ark., to reside.

The bride's going away suit was of gray cloth, tailor made, and beautifully designed, and as the couple boarded the train for their bridal trip the best wishes of hundreds of friends accompanied them.

The wedding presents were most beautiful, and included cut glassware, silverware, chinaware, handpainted china and several casa presents, all of which were given by relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

More than one hundred guests attended the wedding and among the number were Dr. C. T. Hughes and daughter, Lois, of Quincy, Ill., father and sister, respectively, of the groom; Mrs. E. J. Lampert, aunt of the bride, and son, Edward, of Kansas City; George E. Goodwin, also of Kansas City, a brother of the bride.

Mrs. Hewes is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Goodwin, 302 West Third street, and bears the reputation of being one of the city's most refined and cultured young ladies. Possessing more than ordinary ability as a vocalist and endowed with a lovable disposition and all the qualities that constitute beautiful womanhood, she has a circle of friends whose admiration she has retained from the date of acquaintance.

For Mr. Hewes it can be said he is a young man of sterling worth, at present holding a position with the Iron Mountain civil engineering department at Cotter. He formerly resided in Sedalia, during which time he made hundreds of friends, all of whom will join the Democrat-Sentinel in extending hearty congratulations.

STEINHEIL MURDER CASE

State Rests and Prediction Is Made She Will Be Acquitted.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The state this afternoon rested its case against Mme. Steinheil, accused of the murder of her husband and stepmother.

Popular opinion is that the prosecution has not made out a case against the prisoner, and that she will be acquitted.

Just as the prosecution was closing its evidence the prisoner renewed the implied threat she had several times made. to broach a scandal that would involve persons of high standing, but again the judge's invitation to proceed with the "revelation" was met with silence.

The defense began with the testimony of a chauffeur and policeman, who said Madame Steinheil was very anxious to discover the identity of the murderers.

Married This Afternoon.

Minor G. Sigman, a young farmer northeast of town, and Miss Eliza J. Manley, daughter of G. G. Manley, a farmer of Beaman, were granted a marriage license here today. They were married here this afternoon.

CAUGHT IN A RAID

CHARLES EVANS, HUSBAND AND FATHER, IN COMPANY WITH ALLEGED BAWD.

CHARGED WITH WIFE BEATING, TOO

Hazel Reed Is the Woman In the Case —Will Come Up for a Hearing Before Judge Rickman November 18.

Charles Exans, an employe of the Swift Packing company in this city, who made a brutal assault on his wife at their home, 318 West Johnson street, Monday evening, and Hazel Reed, who is alleged to be conducting a house of prostitution on North Monteau avenue, were arrested by Deputy Constables Kahrs and Brown and Deputy Sheriff James Card at 8 o'clock this morning.

According to the authorities, the two were occupying the relations of man and wife. The raid was made at the urgent plea of Evans' wife, who made complaint to the authorities that her husband was living in adultery with the Reed woman.

Led by Mrs. Evans, the officers proceeded to the building where the couple held forth. Peering through a transom, they saw the two in bed. Knocks at the door resulted in their surrendering.

Evans and the woman were taken before Justice J. B. Rickman, where the former was charged with adultery and with assaulting his wife. Bond was fixed at $300 on the assault charge and $200 on the adultery charge.

The Reed woman's bond was fixed at $200.

Justice Rickman set Taursday, Nov. 18, as the date for the hearing.

From the authorities it is understood that steps will be taken to prosecute Evans and the woman vigorously. Evans is accused of having whipped his wife repeatedly, and also several of their six children.

Recently Mrs. Evans made complaint to the authorities, and members of a local church took the matter in hand, but apparently without result.

The Reed woman this afternoon was released on bond, signed by Isaac Adkins, who testified he has $2,000 worth of property, free from incumbrance.

WED BY REV. J. H. ALLEN

Mr. M. L. Nixon and Miss Della M. Wear Were Last Night.

M. L. Nixon, a mining engineer, who has been located in the western states, and Miss Della M. Wear, a refined young lady of Lincoln, Mo., were united in marriage by the Rev. J. H. Allen at the latter's home, 413 East Broadway, at 8:30 o'clock last night.

The wedding was a quiet affair, only members of the divine's family witnessing the ceremony. The bridal couple is temporarily located at the Huckins hotel, and will leave shortly for a visit with relatives at Lincoln, after which they will locate in the west.

"Fitz" Has Leased a Shop.

BANDIT CAPTURED

AFTER HE HAD KILLED A BANK CASHIER AND WOUNDED THE PRESIDENT.

ALMOST FOLLOWED BY LYNCHING

New Albany, Indiana, Had a Sensation This Afternoon—Murderer Was Finally Captured and Landed in Jail.

New Albany, Ind., Nov. 11.—J. Garry Fawcett, cashier of the Merchants' National bank here, was shot and killed, and President J. K. Woodward was seriously wounded by a man who entered the bank this afternoon and attempted to rob it.

The assailant escaped in a stolen automobile to the Ohio river, where he entered a skiff, but was captured after a long chase.

The robber entered the bank suddenly and commanded everybody to throw up their hands.

There was a rush for safety by the clerks and customers, but President Woodward stepped forward and attempted to talk with the robber.

The latter fired, wounding the president, and as the cashier sprang to Woodward's assistance the robber shot him dead.

It was only by the clever strategy of Police Captain Davis that lynching was averted as the police boat returned to the shore with the prisoner.

Two hundred people had gathered on the bank, crying for vengeance, but Davis told them that the prisoner was dead—hat he had taken poison.

The prostrate form of the prisoner was taken to a patrol wagon, and presumably started for the morgue, but went to the jail instead, where the robber was locked up.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY

In the Circulating Medium Case Against E. C. White.

The case of E. C. White, of the White Collection agency, charged with issuing a circulating medium, was called before a jury in criminal court today.

The first witness had been placed on the stand, prepared to furnish testimony, when Judge Louis Hoffman decreed that it was not in violation of the law to issue coupon books similar to those issued by Mr. White, and in accordance the court issued peremptory instructions to the jury for the defense, after which the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

H. E. Snedeker, charged with assault with intent to kill, withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty, being fined $5 and costs.

THE BREAD WE EAT.

Introduction in the Cincinnati council of an ordinance "to establish a standard loaf of bread, to provide for its manufacture in a clean and wholesome manner, and to provide for its inspection," need not be regarded as a startling innovation in the line of local legislation, say the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The old ordinance of 1856 provided merely that the patent spring balance should not be used in weighing; that the bread should be made of good, wholesome flour or meal, or both, and that the weight of the loaf should be stamped thereon.

This pending ordinance proposes a single loaf of sixteen ounces avoirdupois and a double loaf of thirty-two ounces, or any weight above these as may be demanded by dealer or consumer; provided that each loaf shall be legibly stamped, tagged or impressed with the name of the baker, together with his street and number.

All materials used must be "good and wholesome," and the premises where made and where sold must be clean and sanitary, all these points to be subject to inspection by an inspector to be appointed by the council upon nominations by the board of health.

No doubt this ordinance will undergo some revision before passage. It provides for the turning over to the use of the poor all condemned bread. Of course, we are to presume that the author of this document did not intend to give it to the poor to eat, bread condemned because of unwholesomeness. No doubt he meant merely the short weight bread. The penalty clause may be reduced without weakening the effect of the ordinance if it shall be passd.

The city of Detroit provides, by ordinance, for loaves of one, two and four pounds, and no other weights. This ordinance enters briefly into time to be allowed for shrinkage of weight, naming eight hours as the allowance that may be claimed by the baker. Inspection of all places of manufacture and sale is provided for. Cleveland provides for tagging, showing weight and name, without restriction as to weights and for inspection only to verify weights.

The city of St. Louis provides merely against adulteration of the materials used.

If Chicago shall be considered any more seriously in this kind of regulation than in any other of its enactments to conserve public safety, decency and comfort. its ordinance on bread may be considered rather a formidable document. The loaves must weigh on the first day exposed for sale any weight from one to six pounds, with half pounds between—as, say, a one and a one-half pound loaf.

There is a bad feature in this ordinance is that it allows interference by policemen who may be authorized by their chief.

The Cincinnati ordinance does not start out with the thought of inspection by any other person than the responsible inspector. It ought to provide strict bonding of that official as to his conduct toward bakers and those selling bread.

TO MAKE SOME EASY MONEY.

We observe in the sporting news that Messrs. Johnson and Jeffries are going to fight a "few" theatrical engagements, says the St. Joseph News-Press. Just to kill a little time before they begin work for their promised meeting some time before July 5. 1920—or is it 1910?—they are going to grab some easy money. Before the ink was dry on the articles of agreement, signed with much pomp and ceremony and wine and flashlights and more pomp and ceremony and flashlights, the big fellows "tipped their mits," as the slangster would say. They are going on the stage.

From the fight standpoint the provision making it possible for the men to step into the ring on as late a date as July 5, 1910, is ridiculous. Nine long months in which to train—er, beg pardon, to "act!" And while the fight fans are waiting for the day of battle to roll around that tired feeling will grow and grow, interest will wane, disgust will multiply, but in the meantime easy money will be pouring into the coffers of Jeffries and Johnson.

That there has been an understanding between the opposing forces on the matter of the date can be the only conclusion. Johnson, who has repeatedly declared for publication that he could be ready within a month, did not make the slightest objection to the limit placed on the time within which the fight must take place.

The negro was undoubtedly led to see the value of a long wait, and, reasoning for himself, recently decided that even if the fight does not take place he can make more money on the stage in nine months than he can in the ring with Jeffries.

Thirty-nine weeks at $2,000 a week is mighty sweet. Jeffries can have had but one motive for putting the fight off for so long a length of time, and that was to get the money that the signing of articles would bring into the box office. And why not? The public is ready to fall for almost anything, and why shouldn't these two professors get their share of the harvest that is ever ready for the willing reaper?

Meeting of the Maccabees.

A large throng attended the reception given by Crescent tent No. 4, K. O. T. M., to members of the order and friends last night. The program as printed in the Democrat-Sentinel was rendered in detail, followed by a dainty luncheon. Addresses were made by supreme officers of the order and the evening was enjoyably spent.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. HICKS
THE GROCER

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

They Clog the Pores—Only a Liquid Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. After ten years of cure after cure, the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure.

We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer now. This first bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once.

ACROSS THE POND

THE MARRIAGE OF A FRENCH NOBLEMAN TO A BRIGHT AMERICAN DAUGHTER.

OTHERS WHO MARRIED FOREIGNERS

Alliances Resulted in Divorces in a Number of Instances, After Scandals—Cancelling of an Engagement.

London, Nov. 11.—The marriage of Marquis Antoine de Charette to Miss Suzanne Henning has attracted much attention on this side of the water, ad today's ceremony in New York is looked upon as the culmination of a real international romance.

As neither the bride nor the bridegroom is wealthy, the prime consideration which usually enters into such "love" affairs is absent in this instance. Indeed, those who pretend to know state that the marquis is more bountifully supplied with this world's goods than is his bride.

The marquis is said to be a thrifty person with considerable knowledge of the value of money—a characteristic almost unknown among the nobles of the decaying French aristocracy. He has given an exhibition of this thrift by leaving on this side the many beautiful presents intended for today's bride, in order to avoid the payment of American duties. The gifts from royal personages came from the connections of General de Charette, head of the French royalists in Britany, where his ancestor, the vendee chief, was shot by the republicans in 1797.

Among the donors are the Queen of Portugal, the Duke of Orleans, the Duke de Charette, the Countess de Paris and the Duke de Casserte, the Duke de Rohan, the Duke de Lorge and the Duke de Cases.

One of the gifts is a bejeweled sword, which the Pontifical zouaves, former comrades in arms of General de Charette, has presented. There are again historic diamond pendants, diamond flowers and old Flanders lace from the Baronee de Charette. The aunt of the bridegroom presents the bride with the richest of all the gifts, a diadem of diamond laurel leaves. The giver is Mlle. Henriette de Charette.

* * *

Looking backward at other international marriages, it would appear that new marchioness' for future happy marriages are very few. The roster of American brides of European husbands is a large one, and misery and unhappiness is written large after each name. Here is part of the discouraging list:

Ruth Amory and Baron Roquefort, divorced; noble husband threatened her life with a butcher's knife.

Florence Audenroid and Count Forest-Divonne; beaten and ill-treated by her husband.

Elizabeth Carey and Baron de Stuers, divorced; wife was prisoner in castle for some time.

Estelle Chapin and Count Villars, divorced; the count lost all interest in his wife afer securing a liberal share of her $1,000,000.

Bessie Curtis and Marquis de Tallyrand-Perigord, divorced; husband was chornic gambler.

May Cuyler and Sir Philip Egerton, divorced; husband was inconstant.

Justine Dixon and Sir Spencer Headley, divorced; husbad had delirium tremens and became insane from drink.

Florence Druillard and Count de Pourtales, divorced; was ill-treated in public.

Caroline Fitzgerald and Count Laroche-Guyon, divorced; husband associated with dissolute women.

Reina Furst and Count Penaloza, divorced; driven into the street at night.

Anna Gould and Count de Castellane, divorced; husband preferred other women and spent her money on them; now married to Prince de Sagan, with another divorce in prospect.

Ella Haggin and Count de Tolna, divorced; husband tried to feed her to cannibals.

Alice Heine and Prince of Monaco, divorced; subjected to indignities.

Eva Mackay and Prince Colonna, divorced; husband associated with other women.

Helen Morton and Duke Valensay, annulled; grossly insulted and ill-treated.

Eleanor Patterson and Count Gzickyi, deserted her and extorted money.

Anna Robinson and Count Rosslyn, divorced; husbad lost her money on races.

Adele Sampson and Duke de Dino, divorced; spent all her money.

Marie Satterfield and Count Larisch, divorced; squandered her money and deserted her.

Sarah Stokes and Baron Balkett, divorced; used her as a football and showered attentions and money on other women.

Alice Thaw and Earl of Yarmouth, divorced; deserted her after extorting all the money possible.

Consuello Vanderbilt and Duke of Marlborough, separated; husband ill-treated her and was extravagant.

Clara Ward and Prince Chimay, divorced; neglected and ill-treated her.

Mary Wheeler and Count Papenheim, divorced; refused to admit her as a social equal.

Martha Williamson and Count Dudolstadt, divorced; treated her as a servant.

Consuello Yznaga and Duke of Manchester; husband preferred a variety performer.

The list is by no means complete, but except in rare instances, the story of all American women who have married European "gentlemen" of title is very much the same. The reason is that, except in rare instances, honorable and decent Europeans prefer to marry in their own social circles, and it is only the rounders and degenerates who, as a rule, attempt to barter their titles for gold. with an American wife as an incident.

The world at large has probably not realized what a tremendous sensation of the calcelling of the engagement of Lady Margaret Sackville and Mr. Edmund Sellar has caused to Edinburgh society. The wedding was to have been an exceptionally brilliant affair and it was arranged that it should take place from Magdala place, Edinburgh, where the prospective bride's mother, Lady De La Warr, has a residence. Both parties have a wide circle of distinguished acquaintances. Mr. Sellar being a son of a highly respected Scottish professor, and an enormous number of very handsome presents had been received.

These, of course, have now had to be returned to the relatives and the friends who sent them.

MR. TAFT TO TALK

AT LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY SESSION IN WASHINGTON THIS EVENING.

IS NOT WANTED BY SOME PEOPLE

A Movement In Behalf of Foreign Missions, That Will Cost Each Church Member the Sum of $2.50 Each Year.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Taft will round out a busy day by making an address on religious topics this evening. His oratorical effort will formally open the national campaign meeting of the Laymen's Missionary movement, which will be in progress in Washington during the next three days.

The organization in charge of the gathering was formed three years ago with the purpose of uniting the laymen of the Protestant churches of America, to the end that a crusade might be inaugurated for bringing the entire world to a knowledge of Christianity.

The invitation to President Taft has met with much opposition. The West Virginia synod of the Presbyterian church, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution protesting against the presence of the president as the "honored guest" of the movement, on the ground of his affiliation with the Unitarian church.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Spahr Laws, who is widely known in religious and educational circles throughout the country, has also added his voice and influence at the expurgation of President Taft.

Dr. Laws, in well tempered words, ventures to criticise and take exceptions to a phase of the program for the convention, which proposes "to place before that convention as its most distinguished and honored guest, and before the public as its representative to sound the keynote of its proceedings in its opening address, a very distinguished citizen whom I greatly admire, but who does not worship Christ nor believe in His Deity." He refers to the president of the United States.

He says this must be an error, "for it unfortunately would place him and also the convention in a false light, and could only forebode a blighting influence on the cause."

Dr. Laws protests that his view of the case is absolutely free from political considerations; that his pen has been used in defense of the president against a political assault on his religious views, however variant from his own, and that it is solely incompatability of things religious that is considered.

Leaders who take part in the projected campaign will have to continue their efforts into the spring, and the campaign will close just in time to enable them to get over to Edinburgh, Scotland, for the World's Missionary conference. Some of the most important of the topics to be discussed have been assigned to American leaders.

The plan contemplates the holding of great missionary gatherings in fifty large cities. All the Protestant bodies will be asked to furnish speakers and workers.

Officials of the movement feel that the churches of the United States and Canada are fairly responsible for the evangelization of 600,000,000 of the 1,000,000,000 people in the world who have not yet, according to estimates, had the Christian message presented to them.

To do the evangelistic work required, if this responsibility be accepted, will mean the increase of the American missionary force from the present 4,500 to 24,000 missionaries. The total annual offerings for foreign mission purposes will have to be increased from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000. This would mean that each member of the Protestant church must give, on the average, $2.50 a year for the foreign mission cause, and the sending of one missionary to the foreign field for every eight hundred members of American churches. To accomplish these increases is one of the purposes of the proposed national campaign.

COURT OF APPEALS

THAT OF VIRGINIA OPENED AT RICHMOND AT NOON HOUR TODAY.

MORE THAN 100 CASES ON DOCKET

Chief Among Them Is That of Commonwealth Against Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railway for Taxes.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 11.—Many cases of considerable importance are to be decided by the Virginia supreme court of appeals during the session opened at noon today. More than a hundred cases are on the docket.

Several of the cases in which the state is interested are of far-reaching importance, and the decisions of the judges as to them will be awaited with eager interest. Chief among these is the case of the Commonwealth against the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad, which involves a mighty fight to collect a revenue tax from the corporation.

Should the commonwealth win this suit, its coffers will be increased by arrearages of taxes aggregating at least $100,000, while it will hereafter be able to count on an annual addition of at least $20,000 to its treasury from this one source alone.

Another case in which the state is appellant is that of the Commonwealth against the Virginia Banking and Trust company.

From the corporation commission comes an appeal in the case of the Danville & Western Railway company against Lybrook et al.

The docket is not without spectacular criminal cases which have attracted wide atention. One appeal is that of Samuel Hardy, white, who was convicted by a Nansemond jury of murdering Tiberius Gracchus Jones, and who will die in the electric chair unless he gets a modification of the verdict or is allowed executive clemency.

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be over-persuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep bowels sweet and clean. Recommended by druggists because of their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.

pocket? Do you think you can wrong a man regarding his wife and not have a death dealing cancer in your own character? Do you think you can read an impure book, or tell or listen to an obscene story, and not breed a stinking distemper in your own moral nature? Do you think you can violate those laws of purity that God has written in His word, and on your heart, and in your body, and not reap in disgusting tumors in your own character? Wherever else the law may seem to fail, here it absolutely never fails. A man's sin always finds him out in his character, in what he himself becomes.

4 Again your sin will find you out in your own conscience. No physical torments watch the torments of an accusing conscience. An accusing conscience means hell on earth. No earthly prosperity, no human love, no mirth nor music, nor revelry, nor fun, nor intoxication, can dispel its clouds, nor assuage the agony of its ever gnawing tooth. Well did the old Latin poet Juvenal write,

"Trust me, nor tortures that the poets feigh
Can match the fierce, unutterable pain
He feels, who night and day, devoid of rest,
Carries his own accuser in his breast."

Ah, there is the place where all our sins will soon find us out—every one of us. "Be sure your sin will find you out."

5. But there is another place where your sin will find you out, i. e. in your children. That is one of the most awful things about sin, its curse falls not only upon us, but upon our children also. God does visit the iniquities of the fathers upon the children. You may complain about that as much as you like, but it is an unquestionable fact, and a wise man doesn't think so much of what he would like to have true as what is really true. There is no question that our sins find us out in our children. Let a man be a drinking man, for example. He may not be a very hard drinker, but there is almost sure to be a curse upon his children. It is more than likely that some one of his sons will be a drunkard.

The sin of the adulterer will find him out in his own children. Let him take heed regarding his daughter. Oh men and women, who are contemplating some sinful act tonight, beware lest you bring a curse upon your own household. It looks attractive tonight. It seems as if it would pay, but it won't. "Be sure your sin will find you out.

6. There is one more place where your sin will find you out—your sin will find you out in eternity. This present life is not all. There is a future life, and our acts and their consequences will follow us into it. We shall in eternity reap the consequences of every sin we sowed in time. "The Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven, with His mighty angels, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of His power." "Be sure your sin will find you out." The principle of our text is sure. All history is a confirmation of and commentary on this point of the Word of God. Every man's experience is a confirmation of it. You cannot sin without suffering for it. Is there a man here tonight contemplating sin? I beg of you, don't do it. You will regret it. You will suffer. You will pay an awful price. Your sin will find you out.

But many of have sinned already, and our sins are finding us out already. What shall we do? Fly to Christ. I have preached law to you tonight. Now, here is where the Gospel comes in. There is but one way of escape from the penalties of the law, that is in the grace of the Gospel. Our sins were on our track like a blood-thirsty tiger, ready to spring on us, but Jesus Christ sprang in between us and our sins, and the jaws that would have fastened on us fastened on Him. "He was made a curse for us. Fly to Him at once."

"Babes in Toyland."

The stupendous musical extravaganza, "Babes in Toyland," will be presented at Wood's opera house Thursday evening, November 18.

"Babes in Toyland" will be found altogether superb from a spectacular point of view. It fairly bubbles with tuneful hilarity and comedy, and one event of interest follows so closely on the heels of its predecessor that the audience is kept on the quivive.

Victor Herbert composed the music, there being no less than twenty numbers.

"Babes in Toyland" enjoyed a run of over 450 nights in New York and one year in Chicago. This long run for a musical play is not at all surprising when it is taken into consideration that "Babes in Toyland" is one of the most elaborate and gorgeously staged musical extravaganzas that has ever been seen on the stage.

The company is headed by Ignacio Martinetti in his original role of Alan, and such other well known artists as Helen McLeod, Gus Pixley, Marie Radcliffe, John F. Ward, Marie Malateata, 'Leon Mayo, Ida Ward, Ollie Dignes, Norma Cameron, Lavinia Edwards, Violet Clifford, Amy Thropp, Virgie Burrows, Ethel Vernon and a chorus of beautifully gowned show girls and bewitching choristers.

DON'T SUFFER WITH PIMPLES

USE ZEMO

The most disfiguring and unsightly of skin diseases is acne, popularly known as "pimples." The pimples may range in size from that of a pinhead to that of a pea. They sometimes continue for a long time and sometimes supperate or "matter" slowly.

If you are suffering from pimples, ZEMO will work an honest cure. Pimples should not be squeezed or picked. Bathe the face in warm water with very little soap; dry with rough towel, rubbing until a glow is produced. ZEMO should then be applied with absorbent cotton or soft cloth. We are Sedalia agents for ZEMO.

25 PER CENT WAGE SCALE INCREASE

The Managers of the Different Railway Lines in the West Requested to Confer With the Brotherhood Chiefs.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 11.—Locomotive firemen on forty-two railroad systems west of Chicago yesterday filed demands for a wage increase from 20 to 25 percent. Approximately 25,000 men are involved, and the territory covers all the west, southwest and northwest portions of the United States.

Coupled with the demand for higher wages is another for recognition of the claim of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen to legislate for engineers who are members of the firemen's organization.

The railroad managers are said to be determined not to recognize the claims of the firemen, and they fear trouble, as the last serious railroad strike, which occurred three years ago on the Southern Pacific railroad, was caused because of jurisdiction claims between the two brotherhoods.

Some years ago the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers passed a rule that an engineer could not hold membership in both organizations, and that every man in charge of an engine had to affiliate with the engineers' brotherhood.

The firemen retaliated by changing the name of the organization to include engineers, adding on the word "enginemen," and they have refused to give up their members who are engineers.

While the wage move was anticipated by the railroads for several days, it was not until yesterday that the actual demands were placed in the hands of the managers. No time limit is set for a conference or an answer to the demands, but the firemen urge that they be given a hearing before a committee of managers representing all the railroads in the west so as to expedite the negotiations.

That the locomotive firemen are looking forward to a possible electrification of terminals is shown in the demands presented, which provide that helpers on an electric motor or engine be classified as firemen in the proposed new contract.

SPEAK IN SEDALIA

SENATOR W. J. STONE EXPECTS TO MAKE CLEAR WHERE HIS PARTY STANDS.

OPEN CAMPAIGN ON NOVEMBER 18

First Address Will Be at Jefferson City—Has Been Working for the Past Three Weeks on the "Opening Gun."

Jefferson City, Nov. 11.—Senator W. J. Stone announced last night that he would deliver the first of a series of political addresses at Jefferson City on the evening of Thursday, November 18.

He has been engaged the last three weeks in the preparation of the speech, which will not only cover state matters and issues, but will touch upon national issues, particularly the effect of the tariff legislation in increasing the cost of living to average citizens.

Senator Stone will speak at Sedalia, Joplin, Springfield, Moberly, St. Joseph, Poplar Bluff and other places, although dates and places and a definite itinerary have not yet been arranged.

The announcement that Senator Stone would speak here has aroused much interest. He always has been popular in Jefferson City, which has been his home since he became senator.

A greater interest is added to the announcement by the fact that there is a general belief that he will not hesitate to criticise the Hadley administration, both from the standpoint of a citizen and a democrat.

FEW WORDS WELL SAID

It Is Not So Much What She Said As the Convincing Way She Said It.

Henrietta, Texas — Mrs. Rosa Shackleford is a lady of few words, but those she uses are right to the point and tell the whole story of what she wants to say.

Mrs. Shackleford writes: "I have used Wine of Cardui and find it to be a good medicine; so I have recommended it to my neighbors."

What you may be looking for today, at this moment, may be just what Mrs. Shackleford found—a good medicine.

This tells the whole story. If Cardui was good for Mrs. Shackleford, it certainly ought to be good for you.

And it will. This we know, because, for over half a century of time, commencing before most of the readers of this paper were born, Cardui has been helping sick women back to health and strength.

Cardui's strengthening effects quickly show themselves, in many different ways.

It acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles or nerves and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nerves and relieve the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Not a strong, drug-saturated mineral mixture, but a mildly medicinal, tonic extract of herbal ingredients, Cardui is the ideal remedy for young and old.

Try it.

"FLOOR OF THE OCEAN"

Is Thought to Have Been Visited by an Earthquake.

New York, Nov. 11.—All submarine cable lines throughout the West Indies have been rendered inoperative by some unknown agency. Circumstances indicate an earthquake on the floor of the ocean, but to affect all the cables the disturbance would have to be remarkably severe, and no such shocks have been recorded.

That Jamaica has been visited by a severe storm is all that can be learned.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health. There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

AND DEATH CAME ALSO

Excitement of Reconciliation Fatal to Cleveland Woman.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Laura Peterson died early yesterday morning, an instant after she received her divorced husband, Charles Peterson, back into her life.

The couple were divorced years ago. Tuesday, Peterson called at his former wife's home bearing a basket of fruit and a bottle of wine which he left for her. That night Mrs. Peterson sent for him and he went to the house early yesterday.

As he entered her room she stretched out her arms to him and died. Heart trouble, rendered acute by the excitement of her husband's coming, is believed the cause of death.

"Liquor" at Oyster Prices

Oysters shipped in open tubs have to be re-iced many times in transit. The ice is put in the tub WITH THE OYSTERS. As fast as one piece melts another is put in.

This melted ice washes the fine sea flavor out of the oyster—bloats it—bleaches it—makes it taste flat and insipid.

The melted ice is the "liquor" which is sold to you at OYSTER PRICES.

Sealshipt Oysters

The Full Flavor of the Oyster and Nothing Else.

Sealshipt Oysters are sold by us exclusively, because they are HONEST oysters. Air-tight containers are packed solid with oysters AT THE SEASIDE—and SEALED. Ice is kept packed around these containers during the entire journey, but no ice or water ever touches the oysters.

There is no railroad ice "liquor"—nothing but solid oysters.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It In Sedalia, But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help.

Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from a Sedalia citizen.

P. F. Tomlinson, 1515 E. 5th St., Sedalia, Mo., says: "Five years ago Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Bard's drug store, cured me of lumbago and kidney trouble. I still think highly of this remedy, and recommend it at every opportunity."

TAPPED THE WIRES

"SURE-THING" MEN WIN $50,000 FROM OWNERS WESTERN POOLROOMS.

SOME REFUSED TO PAY THE BETS

Odds on Howard Pearson, Latonia Winner, Boosted From 7 to 1 to to 40 to 1—Denver and Salt Lake Layers "Stung."

Denver, Nov. 11.—Probably between $50,000 and $70,000 was secured in this city and suburbs and Salt Lake City Tuesday as the result of what is believed to have been a cleverly executed job of wire tapping near the Latonia race track. The odds on Howard Pearson, the winner of the sixth race at that track were boosted from 7 to 1 to 20 and even as high as 40 to 1.

Handbookmakers here and at the suburbs of Englewood and Littleton reluctantly admit that they lost heavily on the race, and many of the local bookmakers yesterday refused to pay bets on the race. Two of them, it is said, have been forced out of business.

According to one local bookmaker, the odds apparently were changed before post time, and "the boost" from 7 to 1 to 20 to 1 does not seem to have caused suspicion. If the wire was tapped the post odds were held back and the false odds sent out. Then the plunge was made and as the tip on the horse apparently was general nearly every bookmaker around Denver lost money.

It is stated that the operations extended to Chicago.

"I CAN'T SEE"

I can't see as well as I should, is a common complaint you hear, not only from older people, but from young as well. Age is no criterion for the wearing of glasses. Many are born with greater defects than come with age. Young people inherit and cultivate defects by strain and abuse. Young ,old or middle-aged, if you are not getting the service from your eyes that you think you should, you ought certainly to ascertain the nature of your trouble.

CANADA TO HAVE NAVY

Parliament Met Today to Consider Important Matters.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 11.—Parliament met today to begin what promises to be one of the most important legislative sessions ever held in Canada. Consideration of Canada's tariff relations with the United States, France and Germany is expected to occupy much of the time of the session.

The establishment of a Canadian navy will also receive much attention. It is understood that the naval defense bill will provide for a total capital expenditure of about $20,000,000 during the next six or seven years, the yearly appropriation being about $3,000,000.

Although details are not yet worked out, present plans contemplate a fleet of a dozen war vessels, including cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers. Dry docks and a Canadian ship building plant capable of building and repairing the largest class of war vessels are also contemplated.

It is stated that three vessels of the new fleet will be placed on the Pacific coast and nine on the Atlantic coast.

Free Sample Helps Weak Women

So many of the ills of women are due to constipation that too much warning cannot be given them to keep the bowels well open. They have a modesty and timidity about this that is positively dangerous to their health. It is a function that is as necessary as air and food and should not be avoided.

But it is important to know the remedy best suited to woman's needs. Cathartic pills and tablets are too powerful and salts and purgative waters are both powerful and nauseating. What is wanted is something milder and better tasting, but which at the same time is promptly effective. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin fills these requirements and is being taken by thousands of intelligent American women. They not only use it themselves, but having found it effective in their own case, they keep it in the house for other members of the family, for we are all called upon at some time or other to use such a remedy.

It is a safe and reliable laxative tonic and can be conveniently obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Before buying a bottle of your druggist the doctor invites you to make a test of it at his expense, and when you are satisfied it is what you want you can buy it in the regular way, just as thousands are doing. So, if you will send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell he will send you a sample bottle free of charge.

Thousands of people owe the present good health of their families to applying for a free sample bottle, for in this way they learned of an effective and inexpensive cure for constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and troubles of that kind that come from a disordered stomach, liver or bowels. The family of Harry T. Recker, 208 W. Monroe street, Chicago, are among the legions who highly praise this grand laxative and are glad to publicly say so.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.509 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

BODY FOUND AT LAST

That of an Indiana Watchmaker Who Was Missing.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 11.—Clarence McDowell, who disappeared a month ago, may have been murdered and his body thrown into the St. Joseph river. The body was found in the river yesterday, and the skull had been crushed in. McDowell was a watchmaker, and his home was in Elgin, Ill.

The police said that McDowell had been gambling, and it was possible he had become despondent and committed suicide. His skull being crushed, they explained, could be accounted for by the many chances of the body being forced against piers of bridges as it floated down stream.

PURELY FOR LOVE

THE MARRIAGE OF MARQUIS ANTOINE DE CHARETTE TO MISS HENNING.

MANY BEAUTIFUL GIFTS NOT SEEN

In Fact, Were Left On the Other Side of the Atlantic, As Tariff Duty Would Have Been Something Awful.

New York, Nov. 11.—Another international romance which was "purely a love affair," untainted by any financial considerations, had its culmination today when Miss Susanne Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Henning, of Louisville and New York, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to the Marquis Antoine de Charette, of France.

The ceremony was performed in St. Patrick's Cathedral, in the presence of a select company of nobles and American notables, including the Marquis Bouthillier de Chavigny, Count des Cais, and the relatives of both bride and groom.

Recent reports have stated that the marquis brought with him a small shipload of valuable presents for presentation to his bride, but these were not in evidence.

It was said that from his cousin, the queen of Portugal, he was bringing a rare old jewel, and costly trinkets from the Duc d'Orleans, the Duc de Chartres, the Comte and Comtesse de Paris, the Duc de Rohan, and many other members of the deposed French royalty and ancient nobles of the Fabourg Saint Germain, to say nothing of presents from Baron Alphonse de Rothschild and others.

The bridegroom himself explained why these rich gifts were not on exhibition.

"The duty would have been too great. I was forced to leave them," he said. "It would have been nice, romantic, poetic to bring them here, but one must consider the absurd duty, which your country exacts, and, anyway, we are going back to Paris to live right away, and madame can have her presents there."

He also denied that he had brought over the famous and costly family jewels that will become the property of his bride upon their marriage, saying that the risk would have been too great a one. "I have only a few simple gifts with me," he added.

"One gift, which I cherish especially," the marquis added, "and which awaits us on our return to France, is a beautiful sword, with a gold hilt encrusted with diamonds, which my father's comrades of the Papal Zouaves sent to me. I should hope some day to draw it in defense of my country, although it is perhaps too valuable to use for such purposes. My father, Gen. Baron de Charette, was, as you may know, at one time commander of the Pontifical Zouaves at the Vatican, and I appreciate the sentiment in which it was given.

"Two other lovely gifts are a chain of amethysts which King Charles X gave an ancestress of mine, and a gold service which belonged to his majesty. Then there is a diadem of laurel leaves in diamonds, which my aunt, Mlle. Henriette de Charette, has given to my bride."

By her alliance with the Marquis de Charette the Kentucky belle will become chatelaine of three lovely homes—an apartment in Paris, a villa at Cannes, and a charming chateau in Britanny, which for 800 years has been the home of the Charettes.

It is at Basse-Motte, Chateau Nef, Illeot-Vilaine, near St. Malo, and only eight miles from Dinard, one of the most fashionable of all European watering places. Here at the old chateau the Charettes have entertained such important persons as the king of Naples, Queen Tmelie, the widowed queen of Portugal; Prince von Buelow, Prince von Hohenlohe, the princess of Wales, the Duchesse d'Eu, the duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and among Americans, Mrs. Robert Goelet.

There is quite a little romance connected with the whole affair. Miss Henning met her fiance, who, through his mother, is connected with the Polks of Tennessee, and with President Polk, more than two years ago in Louisville when driving at the horse show there. A speedy courtship followed, which culminated in Miss Henning's trip abroad last spring and the quick announcement of their engagement.

It is one of the few international marriages based wholly on friendship on the part of the young couple, neither being possessed of any great amount of wealth.

Employe Got Stock Tips From Restaurant Patrons.

New York, Nov. 11.—James Theilman, who became a waier in Delmonico's in 1872 and was here until his death, saved his tips and invested them so prudently that he left a fortune of $500,000. During the last ten years he was head waiter.

This was disclosed last afternoon in a petition by the widow, Mrs. Ellen Theilman, of No. 303 West Ninety-third street, for letters of administration, as her husband died without leaving a will.

It was said at Delmonico's Theilman's fortune was the result of prudent investments in stocks on "tips" given by rich patrons of the place.

"He never invested money in margin speculations," said the informant to the reporter. "He always bought stocks outright and never invested a dollar except on the advice of men whom he knew to be well informed and conservative."

SUSPECT SPIRITED AWAY

Negro Who Is Charged With Murdering White Girl.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 11.—Will James, the negro suspected of murdering Miss Annie Pelly Monday evening, was last night put aboard the Illinois Central train which left this city at 7:15 p. m. for Chicago.

It was first intended to take him to Murphysboro, where it was thought he would be safe from mob violence; but hearing that a mob had formed at Anna, the slain girl's former home, through which the train was to pass, Sheriff Davis took the prisoner off the train at Dongola.

With his deputies and the negro, the sheriff hurried into the country before anyone in the town was aware of who they were. It is believed he is traveling across country to take some other train.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Bad Stomach Causes Unsightly Complexions—W. E. Bard Drug Co. Has a Remedy.

Bad stomachs mean bad blood; bad blood means sallow, unattractive skin.

Why? The stomach in a healthy condition separates the nutritious matter from the food and gives it to the blood to supply the entire body with nourishment.

If the stomach is not in a healthy condition it does not separate from the food the nutritious matter and it passes off with the waste.

Thus the blood is impoverished and has not sufficient nourishment to supply the muscles, skin and body generally.

If you have belching of gas, distress after eating, nausea, biliousness, nervousness or foul breath, then your stomach is wrong and you want the best prescription for stomach troubles the world has ever known.

You want Mi-o-na tablets, the great stomach remedy which W. E. Bard Drug Co. guarantees to cure indigestion, no matter of how long standing, or money back.

Relieves stomach distress at once.

Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Sedalia by W. E. Bard Drug Co. for 50 cents a large box. Test samples free from Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.

If Clocks Could Talk

What a lot of queer stories would be given to the world! What a tale the mantle clock in the parlor could tell—of courting and quarreling and kissing and making up. What a lot of good dinners the dining room clock has seen eaten, with never a mouthful for itself! And the dainty French clock in my lady's boudoir—how many secrets it must know! To be sure, all well behaved clocks hold their hands before their faces, but they must see everything just the same.

We have a collection of handsome and well behaved clocks—clocks that always tell the truth about time and that tell nothing else. We have clocks from $1.00 and up. And don't forget to consult our expert optician, if you need glasses.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature R. V. Pierce M.D.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

BABIES OR PIGS?

WILL DISCUSS AS TO WHICH IS THE MOST VALUABLE NATIONAL ASSET.

SOCIAL WORKERS ASK QUESTIONS

Less Has Been Done in Behalf of the Baby Than for the Bull Calf, and This, Too, in an Enlightened Country.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11.—Are human babies as valuable national assets as pigs, calves and colts? This startling question is asked in all seriousness by physicians and social workers from all over the country, in attendance at the conference on the prevention of infant mortality, opened today at Lampson hall, Yale university, by the American Academy of Medicine.

During the sessions, which will be continued tomorrow, representatives of the important medical schools in the country, educators, social workers and practicing physicians will discuss the problem and the possibilities of its solution from four points of view—medical, philanthropic, institutional and educational.

In this year of grace, 1909, and in these enlightened United States, it is startling to be told that less has been done to give a baby a chance to grow up into healthy maturity than has been done for the average calf.

But cattle have long been recognized as national assets. They have a definite money value, so state and federal authorities have enacted and enforced laws in their behalf—laws which secure hygienic surroundings, intelligent care in feeding, an abundance of fresh air and sunlight, and to a certain extent immunity from preventable diseases. That a baby is worthy anything in dollars and cents to the community is a new idea.

In the past the estimates of political economists, the reports of insurance companies and of industrial concerns have gratified the curiosity of anybody who was interested in the money value of the grown-up wage earner.

But it is slightly different where the baby is concerned. He has not figured extensively in the records. But, according to the conservation report, his or her value at birth is $90. By the time he has reached the age of 5 years his net worth is $950, and by the time he is 30 his value is $4,100.

After that his net value begins to decline, and at 50 it is $2,900, while at 80 it is $700. These figures represent the capitalization of the earning power of the individual.

In the case of the baby, the ninety dollars represents the discounted value of his future earnings, taking into account also the cost of the care given him until he is able to look out for himself, and the cost of the care which may have to be accorded him in old age.

It is estimated that about 2,500,000 babies were born in the United States last year, and that 375,000, or 15 per cent of that number, died within the year.

To find the value in dollars and cents of this appalling loss of human life you have only to multiply 90 by 375,000. It amounts to $33,375,000. Add to this an average of $25 apiece spent for medical care and other attention, and you pile a few more millions onto the total loss.

Physicians who have gone straight to the heart of the matter believe that 50 per cent, if not more, of this tremendous waste of life could be prevented. They fix the blame partly on social conditions and partly on the indifference or negligence of health officials.

They declare that the problem could be solved by the registration of births, and in connection with that the instruction of the mothers in the proper care of the babies; the enforcement of the regulations which prevent the contamination of the food and the water supply and of those which secure improved housing conditions with an adequate supply of fresh air and sunlight for rich and poor alike.

These physicians who work among the babies say that if a pestilence were to carry off one-tenth as many babies as die from the "ordinary" illnesses every year, the entire country would clamor for remedial measures. But people are used to seeing the little hearses on the street and nobody gets excited ovr them.

THEY TOLD FORTUNES

At a Kitchen Shower Given for Miss Myrtle Higgins.

Mrs. J. H. Wolfe, a hospitable hostess, gave a kitchen shower at her home, Thirteenth street and Ingram avenue, Wednesday evening, in compliment to Miss Myrtle Higgins, who is to be wedded to Louis Buckley, the electrician, during the latter part of this month.

Almost thirty lady and gentlemen friends of the bride-elect attended the function, each consenting to a narration of their fortune by Miss Marie Heisterberg, whose ability in that particular line is far above far.

The honor guest was handsomely remembered with every variety of kitchen utensil necessary in a well regulated home, and at the supper hour dainty refreshments of fruit salad, chicken sandwiches on lettuce leaves, coffee, cake, pickles and olives were served, after which the guests departed for home, voting Mrs. Wolfe a charming entertainer.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all dealers.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE

As to Why Butter and Egg Prices Are Kept Sky High.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 11.— That the people may know why butter retails at 38 cents a pound and eggs at 30 cents a dozen, Judge Ralph S. Latshaw, of the criminal court, at 2 oclock this afternoon ordered an investigation by the grand jury of reported combinations and trusts in the city, in restraint of trade and for the purpose of maintaining high prices.

The charge covers all combinations and trusts. It is said the investigation will include produce commission methods.

It has been charged that for the past three of four years there has been an organization for the purpose of keeping up the prices on these necessities of life.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

There is nothing that causes more worry and discomfort than a chronic, festering ulcer. As it lingers, slowly eating into the tissues and surrounding flesh, and by its tendency to grow worse in every way, it suggests the possibility of being cancerous in its nature. Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, washes, lotions, etc., always result in failure, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood where the impurities and morbid matters form, and are carried thorugh the circulation to the place, to keep it open, irritated and diseased. The impurities in the blood must be removed before the healing process can begin. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open. Then as this rich, purified blood is carried to the diseased place the healing commences, the inflammation gradually leaves, the discharge ceases, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured because the source has been destroyed. S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by supplying the blood with healthful, tissue-building properties it begins at the bottom and causes the flesh at the diseased spot to firmly and permanently knit together, and the place is left sound and well. NEWS OF THE RAIL

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES TO HAVE UNIFORM PENSION SYSTEM.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Announcement was made by President Brown, of the New York Central lines, yesterday, that at a meeting of the directors of the New York Central, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central companies, plans for a pension system for employes of these lines were adopted. The extension of the plans to other lines of the New York Central system is under consideration.

Employes on reaching the age of 70 years are to be retired, and if they have been continuously in the service for at least ten years immediately preceding their retirement they will be entitled to a pension. An employe who has been at least twenty years in continuous service and has become unfit for duty may be retired with a pension, although he has not reached the age of 70 years.

The system adopted is to be extended without delay to the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railway, the Boston & Albany railroad and the other subsidiary lines forming part of the New York Central system. In January 1, 1910, when the plan becomes operative, the first batch of retirements will be made and 1765 employes will be placed on the pension list.

Officials of the company declare that the pension system to be put into effect will eventually benefit 100,000 employes and will make necessary the distribution by the New York Central of $500,000 annually. The scale of pensions is 1 per cent for each year of continuous service based on the average rate of pay received during the ten years preceding retirement.

The system will be administered by a special board consisting of eight of the officials of the New York Central lines, headed by J. Carstensen, A. H. Smith, G D. Schaff and A. H. Harris, vice presidents.

Missouri Pacific Did Well.

It is understood that the Missouri Pacific in September earned at the rate of 10 per cent on the stock, says today's St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The net results were the best in the company's history for that month. The car movements one day in September exceeded anything that the company has ever done.

The cash balance of the Missouri Pacific just now, it is claimed, is sufficient to take care of current needs, in spite of improvements of considerable size, so that the demand for the new issue of bonds is not an urgent one.

It is said several persons were injured, but this cannot be confirmed here. It will take until early morning to clear the wreck.

The engine and two cars on a work train being operated on the River district of the Missouri Pacific were derailed one mile west of Lupus, Mo., at 4:50 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, necessitating the detouring of two stock trains via the main line through Sedalia.

Conductor P. H. Wheeler was in charge of the train. The cause is unknown. No one was injured. The track was ready for passage at 8 o'clock this morning.

A LAFAYETTE WOMAN HUNG

MARVELOUS RESULTS OF THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

When the Root Juice scientist was at Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. Tom Sheldon, of that city, called on him and said: "I actually hung to the neck of my husband and pleaded with him to try Root Juice. So much was being said about the many cures the remedy was making that I felt it might do him some good. He had suffered for years with his stomach and kidneys and severe headache. Every change of the weather his back hurt him intensely, and of late years the lightest food would ferment in his stomach and bowels, and the formation of gas would cause him to bloat very much. He had tried so many things that he had lost heart, but I finally persuaded him to get a bottle of Root Juice. The first bottle made him feel so much better that he went back to the drug store and got three more bottles. After using four bottles of the truly wonderful medicine his health seems perfect. I never saw such a change in a man in my life. He told me that he would not take a fortune for what Root Juice has done for him." The remedy creates much excitement in every city in which it is introduced. One of the demonstrations was at Quincy, Ill., recently and nearly every day the newspapers at that point reported marvelous good that was being derived from the use of the remedy by numerous citizens. The instructors have hundreds of testimonials from people who have been cured by the great remedy.

Call at Wilcox's drug store. They will be glad to tell you of the great remedy.

HE WON A JOB BY COFFEE MAKING

Post-Dispatch Says That the Divorced Husband of Opera Star Gets Engagement by Feat in Sedalia Hotel.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 11.—The Post-Dispatch of last afternoon printed the following:

His ability to make a cup of coffee superior to the customary hotel product has won for Charles Van Studdiford, until recently the husband of Grace Van Studdiford, singer, the position of manager for Mrs. Leslie Carter on that actress' tour in "Vasta Herne," Edward Peple's new play.

Press dispatches say that Mr. Van Studdiford was at a hotel in Sedalia Monday night, the day Grace Van Studdiford's divorce was granted by Judge Wurdeman of the St. Louis county circuit court. Another guest at the hotel was Mrs. Leslie Carter.

"Oh, for a cup of real coffee!" sighed Mrs. Carter, in the hearing of Mr. Van Studdiford. "Hotel coffee is nearly always atrocious."

"Do you really yearn for a cup of real coffee?" asked Van Studdiford.

"Theatrical people always yearn for it," replied the actress. "It is something we so seldom get."

Mr. Van Studdiford went into the kitchen and brewed a cup of the beverage, which Mrs. Carter drank with relish.

"A man who can make coffee like this," said the actress, "ought to be in the theatrical business."

Mr. Van Studdiford followed his "cue" and effected a contract to manage Mrs. Carter's tour. He was formerly with the C. F. Blanke Tea and Coffee Co.

"I shall be with her husband, Louis Payne, Wednesday, in St. Louis," he said, "in the management, but shall do most of the managing myself. I have discovered that a husband is not the best person to be an actress' manager. Grace Van Studdiford, I will say, is one of the finest women living."

Mrs. Carter will appear at the Century theater for the week beginning Sunday night. Her husband and Van Studdiford are here together.

State Senator A. E. I. Gardner, of Clayton, counsel for Grace Van Studdiford, received a letter Wednesday from the actress, denying the report that she entertained at a "divorce dinner" in Cincinnati Monday night. Mrs. Van Studdiford said the occasion was too sad for rejoicing.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 11.—His only asset a rosary, a man of 50, dressed as a laborer, was killed by a Missouri Pacific freight train half a mile north of Dodson at 4:30 p. m. yesterday. His body was taken to the Stewart undertaking rooms.

In one pocket was a piece of paper with the name and address of Edward Boyle, chief of detectives. When interviewed regarding the identity of the dead man, Mr. Boyle stated that it was John Crowley, whom he had sent out into the country to work. IDENTIFIED CAR ROBBER

Former Postmaster Is Charged With Sensational Holdup.

Seattle, Nov. 11.—Mail Clerk Benjamin L. Stumps positively identified Charles D. Howell yesterday as the man who boarded a Great Northern mail car at Bonner's Ferry, Id., on March 15, impersonated an inspector and looted the registered mail.

Stumps picked out Howell from among four prisoners as the man who locked Mail Clerk B. W. Nistuen in a closet, tied Stumps in a chair with a mail sack over his head and acted as clerk himself until the train reached Spokane, where he jumped off, taking with him the registered mail.

Howell who was formerly postmaster at Haver, Mont., and recently was proprietor of the Kneeland hotel at Olympia, Wash., is held in jail in default of $20,000 bail to answer the charge of holding up the Great Northern express here last month, obtaining $12,000 in cash.

"FOUND WANTING"

STRONGEST SERMON HEARD IN YEARS DELIVERED AT TABERNACLE.

ATTACKS STRONGHOLDS OF SIN

Rev. Reuben Archer Torrey, D. D., Delivers Masterful Lecture On the Ten Commandments—Best of the Series.

NOTES.

There are two soloists, Prof. Butler and Mr. Young. Both sing at every evening service and are greatly appreciated.

The afternoon service is growing in attendance and interest.

The stillness at last evening's service could be felt.

Two services daily in Tabernacle at 3:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Meeting at First Baptist church at 7:00 p. m. for half an hour.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The best service of the series of meetings now in progress was held at the Tabernacle last evening. The place was full to the doors and a sermon was preached on modern sins which arrested the attention of all, and every statement was proven in accordance with the scripture.

In the afternoon Dr. Torrey addresses the church people and others on the subject of prayer. These meetings are full of power and helpful. As usual, Mr. Butler sang a solo. One of the noticeable things is that the singers are consecrated men who are here simply to help men nearer to God.

Whenever Mr. Young takes his place ready to sing you can see that he sings in the atmosphere of prayer. The fact is that Dr. Torrey is surrounded with a splendid corps of helpers. Mr. Jacoby, Miss Anderson, Mr. Young and Prof. Butler, as well as Miss Parker, are all people whose every energy seems to be for the good of the men and women of this city.

The funeral of Robert I. Hatton, a former Sedalian, whose death at Los Tanos, N. M., was chronicled in Tuesday's issue of the Democrat-Sentinel, was held at Los Tanos today, burial being made there. Ex-Alderman F. F. Hatton, a brother, was with "Bob" when he died.

Deceased is survived by his widow, a son, "Cap," aged 30, and a daughter, Mabel, aged 21, who, according to an uncorroborated report, was to have been married to a ranchman at Los Tanos today.

Mrs. Hatton is now the owner of a 160-acre tract of land in New Mexico, and by reason of the death of her husband secures a deed to the land without paying the governmental requirement of $1.25 per acre.

WED FIFTY YEARS

MR. AND MRS. PETER RAST TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

IT TAKES PLACE THURSDAY NIGHT

Been Residents of Sedalia for Twenty-Eight Years—Married In Switzerland—Five Children Are Living.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rast, two of Sedalia's most highly esteemed residents, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 411 South Engineer avenue, tomorrow night.

In anticipation of the celebration Mr. and Mrs. Rast are arranging an entertainment to be given at their home at which their children, grandchildren and other relatives and friends to the number of twenty-five will attend.

A sumptuous supper will be a feature of the affair, which will be concluded late that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rast were united in marriage at Lucerne, Switzerland, fifty years ago tomorrow. Mrs. Rast's maiden name was Miss Kathryn Schweneimann. The ceremony occurred in the identical church where both were baptized, also in the same church where the parents of each were wedded. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rast received their first holy communion in the church where they became husband and wife.

In 1866 Mr. Rast and bride came to America. Two years later they settled at St. Louis, where for a period of six years Mr. Rast held a lucrative position with the Anzeiger des Westens, the leading German newspaper of that city.

In 1878 Mr. and Mrs. Rast came to Sedalia. Shortly after arriving here the former secured a position in the Missouri Pacific shops, where for the past twenty-eight years he has worked faithfully, until today he is considered one of the most reliable and faithful employes on the company's pay-roll.

Mr. Rast is 78 years of age, while his wife is 71. Eleven children blessed their union, five of whom survive, as follows: Louis and Will Rast, both of Sedalia; Mrs. Lizzie Forster, of Little Rock, Ark.; Fred, of St. Louis, and Miss Josie Rast, of this city.

The couple has nine grandchildren. Mr. Rast is the last surviving member of a family of fifteen children, while his wife is the last surviving member of a family of seven.

A noteworthy fact in connection with the celebration will be that the couple and their children will attend holy communion in a body at Sacred Heart church tomorrow morning.

Among the out-of-town people to attend the celebration will be Mrs. Marie Wiegmann, of St. Louis, a cousin of Mrs. Rast.

D. A. R. MEMBERS ANGRY

Two Men Declare Women Should Not Select Song.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 9.—Lafayette county has produced two men who do not believe that the Daughters of the American Revolution should be permitted to select a state song or even have a try at it.

One of them says the organization would not go outside of its own membership to get the song, which would tend to cut down the competition.

The other comes out flatly and says the D. A. R. is incompetent when it comes to turning out state songs. One of the complainants resides at Lexington and signed himself Hiram Brown.

Local D. A. R. members are incensed about the letters.

TALK OF MESSAGE

AS PRESIDENT NEARS WASHINGTON, GOSSIP IS BUSY WITH HIS POLICIES.

COMMERCE AND ANTI-TRUST ACTS

Freely Predicted That He Will Make Drastic Recommendations Regarding These Measures—Finances May Wait.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 8.—President Taft brought his stay in Augusta to a close today, after officiating at the opening of the Georgia-Carolina fair, departing for Wilmington, N. C. It is not likely that the president will do any work on his message to congress until the last of November. He has already outlined the essential points of the message in his speeches during the present trip. Details of his recommendations as to the amendment of the interstate commerce and anti-trust laws, however, have yet to be formulated, for he will not receive the report of Attorney General Wickersham and his other advisers on this subject until after his return to Washington.

The matter of financial legislation, if brought to the attention of the next session at all, undoubtedly will be treated in a special message. There is strong likelihood that in view of the many other matters that are pressing for attention in the president's program of recommended legislation the financial and currency measures will wait until the session begins in December, 1910. There also has been much talk of an extra session in the fall of 1910 to take up the subject.

Later a searching pary went out to the cemetery and found he had committed suicide on his mother's grave, just as he had intimated.

THE MISSING HEAD

OF THE SUITCASE VICTIM MYSTERY WAS DISCOVERED YESTERDAY.

THE DOCTOR MAKES CONFESSION

Believed Fainting Woman Was Dead and Discovered Mistake After Amputating Leg—Caused Her Own Death.

Taunton, Mass., Nov. 10.—"Prof." Frank L. Hill, the "herb" doctor, indicted for manslaughter, in causing the death of Amelia St. Jean, of Woonsocket, yesterday made a confession, retracting the previous plea of not guilty in the district court here, and pleaded guilty. The dismembered body which was found in Tiverton, R. I., a month ago, was that of the St. Jean girl.

It was alleged by the police that the young woman had visited Hill for the purpose of submitting to an illegal operation, which it was supposed resulted in her death.

He made a confession, in which, after telling how the girl came to him and was treated, he said:

"She collapsed. I though she had fainted. I threw water in her face, rubbed her hands and put ammonia beneath her nostrils for her to inhale. For over two hours I worked over her trying to revive her. It was impossible for me to believe that she was dead, but when her body began to grow cold I knew it must be so.

"I was afraid to call a doctor or the police. In my frenzy my first and only thought was to conceal the fact that she had died in my store. In my desperation and without giving further thought to the consequences, I started to dismember the body.

"Grabbing a knife, I amputated the right leg. Then the thought dawned upon me that I had made a serious mistake. I realized, however, that having gone so far there was nothing left for me to do but continue in the mad work I had undertaken.

"Later on, after having washed the floor of the room, I hired a horse and buggy, placed the bag and box containing the remains in it and drove to Tiverton. Not being familiar with the country thereabouts, I am unable to say exactly what other course I took or just where I threw the contents of the box and bag.

"That night (Saturday) about 9:30, I took the head, wrapped it in a black skirt which the girl had worn, and went up Robinson street, to a point near the switch at the foot of the hill leading down from St. Patrick's cemetery. There I threw the head into the bushes on the west side of the street, and went home."

Following the confession of "Dr." Hill, the head of the dead girl was found by the police yesterday in Fall River, just where Hill said he had thrown it.

Hill maintained that the girl herself performed the illegal operation charged against him.

VALUE OF THE MUCK RAKES.

The November magazines are evidences of the fact that the muck rake writer is as busy today as in the flourishing days when his efforts first became profitable fields of investment for the periodicals.

For digging deep into the sins of humanity, tearing open the closets and finding the skeletons that lurk therein, the current magazines are able to hold their own with any that have ever been published. We are told in terse and striking language that Mexico is barbarous, that Ben Lindsay has discovered a thousand-fanged serpent of graft in Colorado, and that New York politicians are engaged in patronizing the most infamous form of vice which has ever reared its head in this country.

A slight protest is being voiced throughout the country against the activities of the muck-raker. The stench displeases the nostrils of the sensitive. After all we hear, what if the sin exists in all its hideousness as the writer tell us? Why parade the crime before the public? Why besmirch the reputations of communities, and why emphasize the existence of that which is low and even vulgar?

Perhaps the American people are beginning to tire of the smell which the muck-rake has stirred up. Nevertheless, let us not forget that we are not apt to fill up the swamp until its stench gives us notice of its unpleasantness.

So have hundreds of evils which have been cured within the past ten years come to the public's attention in all their infamy only through some writer whom we are pleased to style the muck-raker. For finding the sin in hidden places, for awakening the public conscience, for attacking vice in places where it was formerly condoned, a debt of gratitude for his services belongs to the magazine writer.

Let's not condemn the muck-raker too severely. When he embellishes his efforts with a style which makes his story yellow and when he enters the work merely for commercial sensationalism, then let us call a strict halt. But let us not be afraid to have our sins uncovered. The expose may not be pleasant, but it is healthful.

A NEW RAILWAY KING.

A new great railroad group has appeared on the map, in allignment with the Harriman, the Morgan, the Hill and the Gould systems. By the purchase last month of a controlling interest in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway Edwin Hawley has completed the ground work of a system reaching from Newport News, on the Cheasapeake to Le Beau, S. D., and to Kansas City, and running south to Galveston on the gulf.

The most important item in this congeries of relatively small roads is the Chesapeake and Ohio, reaching from Newport News to Cincinnati, an excellent road physically and financially, through many years prepared by the conservative control of the Pennsylvania to operate with admirable efficiency and economy. Since Mr. Hawley purchased the Chesapeake and Ohio last winter the price of its stock has advanced to 89, as against 22 in 1907.

After the Cheasapeake and Ohio, the Chicago and Alton is the most important component part of the new Hawley system. Besides the three mentioned, the new group contains the Minneapolis and St. Louis, the Iowa Central and three smaller roads, the entire collection aggregating 8,400 miles, and tapping nearly half of the best agricultural and industrial area of the United States.

Further, a traffic agreement has been made between the Hawley group and the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient, now building across Texas and Mexico to the Pacific, which will give the new system the shortest route from the Pacific to the Alantic seaboard by about 500 miles.

The total capitalization of the new system is $618,000,000. Much more must be done and great sums of money spent to bring the eight lines, as a whole, to the necessary efficiency as a transcontinetal trunk line, but Mr. Hawley is regarded as a man equal to this task.

PAYING THE PIPER.

"War is hell," said General Sherman, whilst we were in the heat and stress of our great civil conflict. But not he, nor any other of the participants in that frightful struggle fully measured the cost. The civil war has, indeed, cost more since it was ended than all the direct expenses incurred in carrying it on. The current annual report of the pension commissioner gives the following statement of disbursement for pensions from the beginning of the government:

War of the Revolution..	$ 70,000,000
War of 1812.....	45,757,396
Indian wars.....	9,095,609
War with Mexico.....	42,492,784
Civil war.....	3,686,461,840
War with Spain.....	26,283,805
Regular establishment..	15,507,028
Unclassified	16,484,049
Total	$3,913,083,501

The above total does not include the pension payments for the present fiscal year, which will increase the amount to over $4,000,000,000. Since the war was ended there has been no reason to modify the terse opinion of General Sherman. He knew what he was talking about.

DIVORCE AND PROHIBITION.

The annual report of Dr. Young, register of vital statistics, shows that 887 divorces were decreed in Maine during the past year, an increase of 100 over the year preceding. The wife was the libellant in 632 divorces, and the husband in 255 cases. Among the chief causes of divorce, intoxication comes second after desertion. For intoxication the husband was the libellant in 11 cases and the wife in 105 cases. Nearly one-seventh of all the divorces during the past year were the direct product of confirmed drunkenness. A curious and significant temperance exhibit for the home state of prohibition.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

THE THIRD HOUSE

A Request.

To the Democat-Sentinel.

Some time ago your valuable paper printed a report of the last meeting of the home-coming committee which drew my attenoin very strongly.

I note the above committee voted to withhold a list of donors who made the results of that committee a success, for the reason, as they stated, "they did not want to embarrass some."

In fairness to all, would like to ask why it would embarrass any, as all good citizens who desired to help this committee certainly helped same, and those who did not help should be shown up as non-helpers.

As I understand, several hundred dollars was collected. Would like to know why the list of expenditures was not given out in public print, so that those who do help may know what becomes of their money.

Think these same remarks could be applied to our Business Men's association regarding money which is donated for the entertainment of the state fair visitors, and let the general public know what is being done with their money.

Now, Messrs. Secretaries of the home-coming committte and Business Men's association, get busy and send your reports to the papers, and I'm sure they will gladly give you space for printing the same gratis. Yours truly—A Donor.

MURDER ON A ROOF

OKLAHOMA CITY REAL ESTATE DEALER'S BODY FOUND ON 9-STORY STRUCTURE.

ROPE TIED ABOUT NECK BY ROBBER

Package Containing $1,000 in Currency, Drawn Saturday, Is Missing —Blonde Woman Sought by the Authorities.

Oklahoma City, Ok., Nov. 8.—With a rope drawn tightly about his neck, the body of Roy D. Gannon, aged 30, a real estate man, was found at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the roof of the nine-story Campbell office building.

Gannon had been dead for several hours, and the police are confronted with the most mysterious crime in recent years in the southwest.

A package containing $1,000 in currency, which Gannon drew from the bank at noon Saturday, is missing.

After his assailants had beaten the man into insensibility, a noose was formed from a piece of rope and, with the aid of a piece of iron, the rope twisted about the neck of the victim, almost severing the head.

Detectives are seeking a blonde woman with whom Gannon was seen on the streets in an automobile late Saturday afternoon.

Gannon came to this city about a year ago from Lexington, Ky. He was one of the leading real estate men of the state.

Gannon was single. The robbery theory is doubted by the police as the motive of the crime. At this rooming place Gannon talked of his affairs only meagerly with acquaintances he formed there.

It is learned that recently he has been negotiating for a mine at Miami, Ok. For two days he has seemed despondent, and he told a friend that he had been beaten out of some money.

Saturday morning a strange man and woman were seen in the house where Gannon roomed. Afterward his overcoat was missing, and he believed it was taken by them. In it were some valuable papers.

A mysterious phase of the crime is that he had no office rooms in the building in which the body was found.

Mr. Ritchey's will also be a bungalow, containing four rooms, and will cost $1,500. The dwellings will be erected at the corner of Fifteenth street and Missouri avenue.

The dwelling for Mr. Shultz will contain six rooms and will cost $2,800. It will be erected on the second lot north of Sixth street, on the east side of Park avenue.

All of the residences are to be ready for occupancy by Janaury 15.

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER

C. M. Evans Cannot Be Found by the Local Police.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

A police call was sent to headquarters from the home of C. M. Evans, an employe of the Swift Packing company in this city, 318 West Johnson street, at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, the result of Evans beating his wife.

When the officers arrived Evans had disappeared and could not be located.

The fight was first announced by a 12-year-old son, Charles, who, when his father began whipping his wife, ran to the home of a neighbor and gave the alarm.

The latter hurried to the Evans home, and, peering through a window, saw Evans brutally whipping his wife.

The caller knocked at the door and inquired for Mrs. Evans, meeting the inquiry by having the door slammed in her face.

According to neighbors, Evans then returned to the room occupied by his wife and again began beating her.

Neighbors notified the police, but all efforts to locate the assailant proved of no avail.

THE whole dectrine of Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint turns on these three points.

1. It is all paint and true paint.

2. It is strongest, and goes farthest paint.

3. It is full measure.

Because these three things are true, Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint takes least gallons for the job; looks best all the time; lasts longer.

There is no such argument for any other paint; there is no other such paint; the man who uses Devoe gets the best he can get, in paint.

RAPE CASE DROPPED

Evidence of the Prosecuting Witness Contradictory.

(From Sunday's Daily)

In the course of the trial of Oscar Mulkey, a negro, charged with having ravished a minor daughter of Joseph Johnson, a negro former policeman, today, Prosecuting Attorney H. D. Dow entered a nolle prosequi, also dismissed a second similar charge against the prisoner.

In accordance the jury was discharged.

The cause of the dismissal is due to contradictory evidence on the part of the state's prosecuting witness, the father of the girl.

SLEUTHS ON THE TEAM

Wait Until Scramble and Nab Suspect Without a Fight.

Montgomery, Mo., Nov. 9.—While playing football Lester Thorp, of this city, wanted for alleged offenses in St. Charles, Martinsburg and St. Louis, was pounced upon by two officers who were playing in the game, and is now safely behind the bars in the county jail here.

The game of football was at Truxton, near here, and Constable Edgar Owen and his deputy constable conceived the new play of arrest as a sure way to get their man without a fight.

They waited until a rough and tumble scramble was on for the fall and their victim on the ground, when they nabbed him and read the state warrant to him. He was then lifted to his feet, marched from the field and turned over to City Marshal Shackelford, who brought him to this city.

ONE CRUSHED TO DEATH

ROLLER TOWEL MUST GO

Kansas Health Inspectors Have It Under the Ban.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 9.—The state board of health has issued a decree against the roller towel, and that time-honored appendage to the country newspaper office and the country hotel will have to go in Kansas.

The roller towel is the most dangerous and deadly thing that the public comes in contact with, the Kansas health inspectors claim.

In railroad stations, hotels, office buildings and in other places where public toilets are maintained, infectious diseases are conveyed to people who use it Kansas is going to lead the states of the Union in a war on the roller towel.

Road Petition Withdrawn.

(From Monday's Daily)

The road petition of C. E. Garrett et al was withdrawn by consent of the judges of the Pettis county court today, on account of the commissioners failing to give a description of John Atkinson's land in their report.

The following jury, which had been summoned to try the case, was discharged: W. H. Gentry, F. R Lillard, Bert Means, Smith Rissler, N. L. Norton and A. L. Sterlin.

CRAZE IN LONDON

DURING THE WINTER SEASON WILL BE A REVIVAL OF "MYSTICISM."

ANNOUNCE IN SOCIETY WEEKLIES

Palmists and Casters of Horoscopes Are Doing An Excellent Business—Combine Cookery and Clairvoyance.

Special Cable From the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 6.—Portents suggest that the winter craze of London society will be a revival of mysticism. Spiritualists' mediums are taking heart of grace and are beginning to advertise once more in the society weeklies.

Mr. Head's spiritualistic bureau, the destinies of which are presided over by the immaterialistic Julia, is showing an increased patronage, at a guinea a visit, and even Maskelyne & Devant's show of pseudo-mysticism is obliged to display its "House Full" board twice daily.

In Bond street the palmists and casters of horoscopes are doing an excellent trade, and one enterprising lady, whose more than ordinary attractiveness is drawing queues of waiting clients, has hit upon the profitable idea of combining clairvoyance with cookery, and has opened a cafe, where her waiting customers curb their impatience with tea at sixpence a cup.

There is also such an increased trade in crystals that a number of Bond street shops are bringing out their old stock and relegating Jig Saw and Banjaroo to the top shelves.

Superstition is rampant. Charms and mascots are popping up everywhere—in the jewelers', in the fancy shops, and even in the windows of the very materialistic chemists.

Germs of good luck—horrible microbe-looking creations in silver and gold, which are appropriately called "Byitt"—are being sold for the watch chain and necklace, together with miniature "Billikins," "Smilagogs" and "Chaseglooms," while a Hebrew charm, called a "Koemir," made from silver sixpences perforated with a Hebrew symbol, are commanding a ready sale.

Society always loves the mysterious, and it only wants a Pall Mall revival of the famous Eleusinian mysteries to add the cornerstone to an occult season.

WINNER PAWS A JUDGE

National Horse Show Begins at Madison Square Garden.

New York, Nov. 9.—Heavy skies and a steady drizzle outside detracted nothing from the brillance of the first night of the twenty-fifth national horse show at Madison Square garden last night.

The only mishap occurred late yesterday. Judge William E. Moore, of New York, was just pinning the blue ribbon for horses shown in harness to his bay gelding, Flourish, when the animal reared, and driving his forefeet into the judges' stand, upset chairs, broke a table and bowled over a gorgeous flunkey. Judge Moore regained control without leaving his seat, and drove Fourish out.

THE STRIKING STUDENTS

Board to Act on Demand of Pupils at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 9.—The 500 striking students at the West High school returned to their class rooms yesterday pending final action by the board of education.

A restitution of single sessions, to replace the forenoon and afternoon sessions, and wholesome lunches at cost, will be appealed for.

Escaped From the Asylum.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

County Clerk M. L. Imhoff today received a letter from Dr. J. W. Lamson, of the state insane asylum at Nevada, stating that Leslie Farnham, a Sedalia boy, had escaped from that institution on October 16. The letter was written from the hospital last night. Not a word had been received from the patient since, but it is believed that he is at Oil City, La., at present.

There will be a shooting tournament at Spring Fork on Nov. 15th—18 or 20 geese and a lot of ducks will go into the shoot. Everybody invited. —Frank Schader.

DEAD NOT KNOWN

THREE OF THE FOUR VICTIMS WHO FIGURED IN CHICAGO AUTO MYSTERY.

HAD BEEN DRINKING IN A SALOON

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The identity of the three men and one woman, occupants of a taxicab which Sunday night plunged into the river at Jackson boulevard, will probably remain a mystery until the bodies are recovered. The current at the point where the tragedy occurred is so swift that the bodies may be miles away. The automobile was recovered yesterday, thus establishing the identity of the chauffeur. Investigation showed that the Salt Lake banker and his party, at first supposed to be the victims, were on a train bound for Portland, Oregon.

It is now learned that the persons who perished summoned the cab to Al Austin's saloon, 282 Wabash avenue. Ernest Camp, 22 years old, was the chauffeur, and the machine belonged to John W. Schreffler. The desire of Chauffeur Camp to make some extra money throws light on the tragedy.

Camp had made an appointment to appear at the Colonial theater at 10:45 p. m. He was asked a few minutes after 10 o'clock to take a party to the west side, and hoping to get the extra fare, he raced toward his destination, and, not seeing the danger signals at the bridge, drove the car into the yawning gap to his death.

The appointment at the Colonial theater, which was made through E. B. Davis & Co., 32 Van Buren street, Schreffler's agent, early in the evening. He was to meet Mr. and Mrs. M. Hershfinkel, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Golberg and Misses Florence and Annette Hershfinkel, who attended the performance. After the show the party waited an hour on the walk in front of the theater for the expected chauffeur, who at that moment lay dead beneath the waters of the river. The destination of this party was 729 West Twelfth street.

His failure to appear, and the reason for his death, came out after diligent inquiry yesterday. A tall man in a silk hat came out of Al Austin's saloon at about 10 o'clock and asked Camp to take him and a party somewhere, presumably to the West side, judging from that part of his trip made successfully. He objected because of his 10:45 o'clock appointment, but the man in the silk hat said:

"It won't take you that long to make our trip, and there's a little extra in it for you if you take us over."

The opportunity of thus "making good" with his employer, for whom he had been working only two days, appealed to the driver so strongly he consented, adding, "You have got to get a big hurry on, though."

The employes of the saloon declared the party consisted of a woman and two men, who previously had been drinking in the rear of the saloon.

Camp hurried them into the car and set out at a furious pace to make his trip and return before the hour for his Colonial theater appointment. His efforts carried him through the open draw to his death.

There still remain many mysterious features of the tragedy. It is learned that four tickets for an overland train, including a stateroom, were purchased Saturday, for use Sunday night, at about the hour the cab would have landed its occupants at the Northwestern station. These tickets were not used and the identity of the purchaser is no known, as he paid cash and gave no name.

Body of One Victim Recovered.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Part of the mystery which has surrounded the tragedy of Sunday night, when a motor car containing six persons plunged into the Chicago river at the open draw of the Jackson boulevard bridge was solved today by the recovery of the body of the chauffeur, Ernest Camp. It is expected that the other bodies will be found before night.

MAY BE MILLIONS

TREASURER OF THE "BIG FOUR" AT CINCINNATI REAPED A "HARVEST."

HE HAS BEEN STEALING FOR YEARS

C. Y. Warriner's Total Defalcation Is Reduced to the Extent of $150,000 by Property and Surety Bond.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 9.—Today there are rumors that the shortage in the financial department of the Big Four railroad as developed through the alleged defalcation of Charles L. Warriner, its deposed local treasurer, may reach $2,000,000.

The interrogation of Warriuer by his superiors and others was resumed today. The authorities are mystified over a visit of a boy to the Warriner home last night. The boy, it is alleged, attempted to pass a note to Warriner, and it is thought by the police that this note was from the woman who has been named by Warriner as the one who has blackmailed him for years.

Statement Given Out.

New York, Nov. 9.—The loss to the Big Four railroad through the alleged defalcations of C. L. Warriner, its local treasurer at Cincinnati, ultimately will amount to about $500,000, according to a statement issued in New York last night by Albert H. Harris, vice president of the New York Central lines, including the Big Four.

"The amount of the defalcation," says the statement, has been ascertained to be $643,000. Warriner has turned over to the company property amounting to more than $100,000, and there will be received from the American Surety company, on its bond, $50,000, leaving a net amount of the shortage something less than $500,000.

"The method which Warriner adopted was to cover up his defalcation in the item of 'cash in transit.' At the end of each month there are considerable sums of money on their way to the local treasurer from station agents and others which have not been received by him.

"It was by including in this item the moneys which he had in fact stolen that he was enabled to conceal his defalcations."

Alleged Blackmailers.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 9.—Until long after midnight officials of the Big Four railroad were still in conference with Charles L. Warriner, former local treasurer of the road, to discuss means of appehending those whom Warriner has named in connection with his shortage.

At a late hour information was given out that plans are about completed for more arrests.

The railroad officials have been furnished by Warriner with a circumstantial story of the alleged extortion from him, and those implicated, including a man and a woman, are said now to be watched day and night by detectives.

A JOPLIN MINISTER

IS TO GET PORTION OF $5,000,000 AWARDED CHEROKEE DESCENDANTS

BEEN IN LITIGATION MANY YEARS

Court of Claims Decides That Tribe Or Those Who Descended from the Tribe Will Be Paid for Their Lands.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 9.—According to information contained in a letter received by the Rev. J. T. Clark, of No. 1718 Joplin street, a Baptist minister, from relatives at his former home in Russellville, Ky., he, with other members of the family, will receive a portion of $5,000,000 to be distributed by the government between the heirs of members of the Eastern Cherokee tribe of Indians, in compliance with a recent decision of the federal court of claims.

Mr. Clark's share in the appropriation will be his by reason of his descent from the same family as one Polly Clark, a full-blood Eastern Cherokee Indian, who was married in 1822 to Morris Hinchee, a pioneer settler of the then new country. Hinchee died in 1832, but his son, John Hinchee, was one of the ancestors of the present Clark family.

The $5,000,000 appropriation, the courts have finally decided, after litigation lasting more than half a century, is due descendants of the Indian tribe as the results of treaties made with them in 1835, 1836 and 1846, by which they relinquished lands to the government. Payment of the claims was refused, and the matter was taken to the courts, where it has remained until all the original claimants are dead.

By the court's decision, the money will be divided between those who can trace their lineage back to any member of the tribe, which was comparatively small at the time the treaties were made. Members of the Clark family in Kentucky, who have been actively interested in the case, have taken the matter up, with the object of proving their claim to a portion of the appropriation. The Rev. Mr. Clark will aid in the investigation.

A peculiar incident in connection with the matter was the appearance of Charles Clark, son of the Rev. Mr. Clark, in an Indian makeup on the stage of the Club theater last week in the "Girl of the Golden West." While no trace of the minute strain of Indian blood is discernible without such a makeup, with it the resemblance to an Indian was so strong as to cause many persons in the audience to believe he was a real redskin.

NUNS SAVED ORPHANS

Panic Quelle dand When Help Arrives Fire Is Under Control.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 9.—Twelve brave nuns at St. Vincent's Orphan asylum organized a bucket brigade, put out a fire in the top of the building Sunday night and quelled an incipient panic among the 400 inmates.

The Sisters, passing buckets of water up the stairs and pouring it on the blaze, sent the biggest boys to oversee the little ones at their studies.

When help arrived from outside, the children, part of them still unconscious of the peril, were at their books, and the nuns had the fire under control.

The Father to Devote Life to Finding the Slayer—Sad Fate of Miss Nora Byrnes, of New York, Aged Only 23 Years.

New York, Nov. 10.—"My daughter was kidnapped, drugged, placed in an automobile, fatally beaten, and then thrown into the street and left to die. Of these things I feel certain, and I shall spend the rest of my life and my fortune in hunting down her slayer."

This statement was made yesterday by Michael Byrnes, the father of Miss Nora Byrnes, 23 years old, who died in Blackwells Island hospital after having been picked up unconscious in the street by the police, and charged with intoxication when she was really suffering from fatal injuries.

Miss Byrnes was found on Surf avenue near the Brighton Beach race track on the night of November 4. She left her home at noon on that day and had told her parents she was going to Boonton, N. J., to visit relatives.

The young woman lived with her parents in Brooklyn. She bore an excellent reputation. Besides the mysterious circumstances surrounding her death, the most remarkable feature in the case is the fact that although a policeman charged her with intoxication, took her to court and had her committed to Blackwells Island, he did not take trouble to find out how badly she was injured.

Not until she reached the hospital was it discovered that she was suffering with concussion of the brain and that her body was covered with bruises. She then was committed to the Blackwells Island hospital but it was then too late to save her life or obtain a statement from her which might lead to the arrest of those who beat her.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all deaers.

M. Z. Roberts, 25 years old, of Stanberry, Mo., brakeman on the Wabash railway, was killed in the yards at Chillicothe, Mo., Sunday morning when he was caught between the drawbars of two freight cars while trying to make a coupling. Roberts was unmarried.

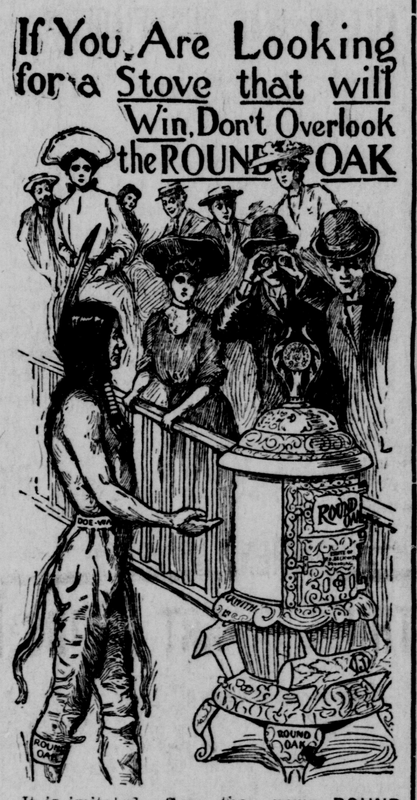
THE UTTERLY WRONG WAY

to select a heating stove is by its price, unless you can't help yourself. Is it not good business and economy to select a stove known for years by most everybody, as the first and foremost of its kind and always sold at a reasonable price? The genuine ROUND OAK will burn successfully and economically any kind of fuel and you can run your fire at just the speed you wish.

Then you can close up the stove when the proper time arrives — and hold the fire—just as you want it—till next day or next evening. Isn't a stove like the ROUND OAK worth a little more on the start? And can't you see? You get your money back little by little — until finally you have the cheapest stove possible — and then a stove that lasts — that stays sound and good!

If it is good business for us to sell it, it is good business for you to buy it.



You are invited to see it. It is imitated. See the name ROUND OAK on the leg.

Catch the Cold

In a strict sense you do not catch cold, but rather, the cold catches you. It catches you when your vitality is low, when the circulation is impeded by sudden draughts of cold air, etc.

The right thing to do is to reverse things and catch the cold in the start and stop it before it has you firmly caught. You can do this with OUR COLD TABLETS. They stop colds in the beginning and cure settled colds in one-fourth the usual time. Price 25 cents.

CRIES OUT FOR MERCY

Madame Steinheil Protested Against Torture of Inquisition.

Paris, Nov. 9—"Have pity on me. I am an unhappy woman, who should not be tortured," cried Madame Steinheil, on the resumption of her trial today.

The prosecuting judge responded that accused persons always repeated that cry when embarrassed for an answer.

When reproached for having concealed so long from the authorities the fact that she possessed imitation duplicates of all her jewels, the woman defended her secrecy on the ground that she wished to hide from her friends the real financial condition of her family.

ORPHANAGE IN BAD SHAPE

Official Finds Deplorable Conditions at Prior Creek.

Prior Creek, Ok., Nov. 9.—The visit here of Bert Chandler, member of the state board of public affairs, has disclosed a deplorable condition at the state orphanage.

Crowded into pitifully inadequate quarters originally intended for forty children, 150 orphaned wards of the state are thrown into dangerous tempting proximity, says Mr. Chandler, boys and girls of varying ages occupying sleeping rooms on the same floor.

The charge is made that from twenty-five to forty girls are crowded into one sleeping room, and three to four boys occupy one bed.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 9.—Protests from church organizations will be heard by the Independence city council tonight against the opening of Sunday theaters.

Action has been taken by the ministerial alliance and the Latter Day Saints organization in church and Sunday school.

SURGEON'S KNIFE

MIDSHIPMAN WHO WAS INJURED IN FOOTBALL GAME OPERATED UPON.

CONDITION GREATLY IMPROVED

Was on the Operating Table From 2 Until 5 O'clock Sunday Afternoon—Case Is a Very Complicated One.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 8.—A most delicate operation was successfully performed last afternoon upon Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, of Covington, Ky., a vertebra of whose neck was broken during a football game on October 16.

The outward covering was cut away from four of the vertebrae of the neck, in order to remove pressure on the spinal cord, and the covering of the spinal cord was removed and thoroughly inspected.

Portions of the fractured bone from the fifth vertebra were removed, but it was found that the greatest injury had been occasioned by a dislocation of the fourth vertebra.

The cord was found to be intact, though in bad condition at the point of injury. It is believed that all pressure has been removed and that Wilson's chance of ultimate recovery is greatly improved.

The operation began at about 2 o'clock and was not completed until nearly 5. Within an hour Wilson had almost completely recovered consciousness and was talking intelligently.

NOT A CANDIDATE NOW

Auditor Gordon Speaks in Regard to the Governorship.

"I am not an active candidate for governor now. I am simply trying to do my duty as state auditor of Missouri, and I find that that takes most of my time."

That was State Auditor J. P. Gordon's reply when asked by a reporter for the Cole County Democrat about the boom for governor which his friends have started recently.

"My chief ambition now is to run the auditor's office on thoroughly business principles and see to it that the money we all have to pay in taxes is not squandered or gobbled up by grafters.

"I may make enemies, but I am going to try to cut out every petty salary graft the state now has to pay for. If that can be done the burdens on the taxpayers will be lessened materially. I am not a reformer, but am going to try to give the taxpayers a square deal while in office, no matter if it makes me enemies.

"I believe we democrats are going to everlastingly submerge the republicans in the state election, but we won't do it unless we get together. The republicans can't whip the democrats in Missouri, but when the democrats take to knifing they whip each other."

STARTS FIGHT: IS KILLED

Victim Attacked Man He Found With Sweetheart.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 8.—Insane with jealousy when he found his sweetheart, Della Sands, with John Reising, early Sunday morning, John Hudson pounced upon the latter, and in the melee received two bullet wounds in the stomach from which he died.

Reising, after his arrest, said his visit to the Sands home was purely an incident, and not by prearrangement. He did not know Hudson, and when the latter assaulted him he drew out his revolver and fired twice.

The witnesses to the shooting maintained a stubborn silence, declaring they did not know the name of the assailant. All are held for the coroner's inquest tomorrow.

DIED OF INJURIES

WILLIAM MOORE, WHO HAD ONE OF HIS HANDS CUT OFF BY A CIRCULAR SAW.

LEAVES WIDOW AND SIX CHILDREN

Several Transfers of Realty In the Green Ridge Neighborhood—Mr. A. R. Ream Sells His Fine Home.

The Green Ridge Local News of November 5th prints the following:

Wm. Moore, the plasterer of this city, who was noted in these columns some weeks ago as having nearly had one of his hands cut off by a circular saw, died at his home on Wednesday evening of this week, from the effects of the accident. Mr. Moore was thought to be doing as well as possible, but last week blood poison developed, and on Saturday the hand was amputated by Drs. Clabaugh & Ferguson in an effort to save his life. The effort was futile, however, and he died as above stated. He leaves a widow and six children to mourn their loss. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon from the Baptist church and the remains interred in the new cemetery.

The real estate firm of Ream & Ridenour report the following transfers: A. R. Hellings sold his 240-acre farm four miles northwest of town to Cole Davis, of Clarence, Mo., for $14,000; J. L. Barnes sold 120 acres, 1½ miles southeast of town, to W. R. Ray, of Clarence, Mo., at $52.50 per acre; P. Detjen sold 260 acres, seven miles northwest to town, to W. A. Allgaier, of Lakenan, Mo., the price being $55 per acre.

A. R. Ream, one of our prominent citizens, this week sold his fine home, consisting of half a block in the western part of town, to Judge E. R. Wilson, of the south side, the consideration being $2,000. Judge Wilson and family are among Pettis county's very best citizens, and the Local-News gladly welcomes them to our town. Mr. Ream has not yet decided upon a location for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Shelly gave an enjoyable party yesterday afternoon in honor of the birthday of their daughter, Miss Lena. A large number of her young friends were present and an enjoyable time is reported. Mrs. Shelly was ably assisted by Mesdames Clabaugh and Willis.

R. A. Harkless, the popular Washington township auctioneer, informs us that he has leased his farm for a year to Mr. Wm. Morgan, and will shortly have a public sale of his personal property, after which he will move to Windsor and devote his time to the auction business.

Our old friend, "Uncle Tom" Nelson, writes us that he is again at the Confederate home at Higginsville for the winter. He sends regards to all his friends here.

Mrs. George Buchanan, of Sedalia, and Mrs. Laura Shafer, of Warrensburg, left this morning for their homes, after having attended the funeral of their brother, Wm. Moore.

The new 25-horse engine at the elevator is now installed and in operation. The elevator is now ready to handle corn, and the indications are for a large run of that cereal.

MORE BEER IS SOLD

IN MISSOURI TODAY THAN BEFORE LID WAS PUT PARTIALLY ON.

BOOKS SHOW CONSUMED AT HOME

Collections for Ten Months of Present Year $18,724.98 Greater Than for Corresponding Months of 1907.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 9.—Although more than half the counties of this state are without licensed saloons, more beer is consumed in Missouri today than when there were wide-open Sundays in all the large and some of the smaller cities, and there were twice as many licensed saloons as there are today.

That this statement is true is fully borne out in a report filed with Governor Hadley by Ernest Marshall, state beer inspector. This shows that the collections under the beer stamp law for the first ten monhs of the present year are $18,724.98 greater than they were for the corresponding period of last year.

Up to date the present year, which includes the month of October, the collections amount to $336,251.45. The heaviest previous collection was in 1907, when the total was $371,525.43.

That the beer upon which the tax is paid is consumed in this state admits of no doubt, for beer manufactured in this state for sale outside of the state is not subject to the tax, so it naturally follows that the tax represents beer actually consumed in Missouri.

Just how much of this beer is consumed in dry counties does not appear on the books of the state inspector, nor does he possess any information on this point. The manufacturers' books alone would reveal these facts.

BOYS WERE DELIGHTFUL

Concert Last Night One of the Best Ever in Sedalia.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

"The Roney Boys" last night delighted a good sized house with some of the most perfect melody ever heard in Sedalia. There were five boys in the company, besides the instructor, Mr. Roney, who plays the accompaniments, and four of them sang like little angels, while the fifth played the cornet in a surprisingly masterly way.

The singing numbers were most beautifully rendered and the music of the voices, the perfect harmony and clear enunciation and fine expression were evidence of most careful training, as well as great natural gifts.

The difficult numbers, as well as the lighter ones, were faultlessly rendered, and time after time the boys were called upon to render encores, which they did with the greatest good nature imaginable.

The different groups of songs were rendered in costumes, the churchly surplice and cotta, sailor suits and Highland Scottish dress, all of which added to the pleasing effect produced.

To those who love real, genuine, natural music, sung as coming from the very heart, the concert was a perfect delight.

If the boys ever come to Sedalia again they should be greeted by a capacity house.

"AFFINITY FOOLS"

CHICAGO PASTOR SCORES MEN AND WOMEN WHO HUNT "SOUL MATES."

'CLUB GAB' RUINS TOO MANY HOMES

Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins, in Chicago, Censures Seekers of the "Fuller Sphere"—Blames Man Same as Woman.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—"Affinity fools" were censured from the pulpit in a lecture by the Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins, in the Pilgrim Congregational church. He gave some of the reasons why both men and women leave their marital partners to seek soul mates.

He cited the case of a woman who becomes weary of her husband who is working hard to provide for her.

"She tires of her home life," said the pastor. "She tries to make herself think she understands a lot of gab from the platform of her club about the larger, the fuller life and her sphere. Along happens a knave. Together they begin to think and talk about how they understand each other. Thus they proceed through months and months of slush, until one day there is a splash, and both have tumbled into the same old hog pen.

"Then there is the husband who tires of the wife, who makes her own clothes, whose children are neat and clean and who loves her husband He gets rich, but she made the wealth as much as anybody.

"But listen to him as he begins to talk about his wife's looks, and for a woman made by milliners, dressmakers, dancing academies, hair dressers and the devil he wants to exchange his wife, his helper, the architect of his fortune, whose hands were taught their skill by a heaven-sent love. If you go into a pig packing plant and look at a row of pigs' faces you will see a perfect picture of affinity fools unmasked."

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 36 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health. There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

If Clocks Could Talk

What a lot of queer stories would be given to the world! What a tale the mantle clock in the parlor could tell—of courting and quarreling and kissing and making up. What a lot of good dinners the dining room clock has seen eaten, with never a mouthful for itself! And the dainty French clock in my lady's boudoir—how many secrets it must know! To be sure, all well behaved clocks hold their hands before their faces, but they must see everything just the same.

We have a collection of handsome and well behaved clocks—clocks that always tell the truth about time and that tell nothing else. We have clocks from $1.00 and up. And don't forget to consult our expert optician, if you need glasses.

GAME LAW MONEY

SAID THE OCTOBER FEES WILL ADD $30,000 TO STATE TREASURY.

PETTIS COUNTY HAS HELPED OUT

Warden Jesse A. Tolerton and Deputies Are Pushing Prosecutions of Those Who Violate the Fish Statutes.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 8.—The new game law seems to be working quite satisfactorily, judging from reports such as reach State Game and Fish Commissioner Jesse A. Tolerton.

While all the October license fees have not been reported to the state treasurer, yet about $30,000 has already been received, and several thousand will undoubtedly be added.

There was a balance on the September collections of more than $11,000 and it is probable that $10,000 or $12,000 will be collected for the present month.

The department will on January 1 have a balance of above $35,000 and this will be doubled during the year 1910. When the next legislature meets there will be a large balance in this fund and if properly applied it will go a long ways toward restocking the depleted streams with food fish.

Until Commissioner Tolerton and his deputies began work no one had any idea of the extent to which the fish laws were being violated. In the southern part of the state they have destroyed more than 1,000 unlawful nets.

It is now quite plain why so many fine streams of water in this state have been practically barren for years. The fish simply had no chance to multiply, owing to the unlawful devices used for catching or killing them.

No doubt the next legislature will be asked to use a part of the surplus game fund for restocking these streams, and with laws enforced as they are now, money so expended will be thrown away. And if the present law, or something like it, is retained for a number of years, those who have looked into the working of such laws in other or older states say that not only will the fine streams of the state yield bounteous supplies of fish, but that game will increase and the field of sport will be wider and more alluring than ever to those who keep within the law.

Very few violation of the game law have so far been reported, for the season proper only opened Nov. 1. The shipment of game is prohibited under the new law, and this is the trap that will most likely catch offenders should there be any.

Collapsed on Train While En Route From New Orleans.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Representatives Philip P. Campbell, of Kansas, and J. David Foster, of Vermont, who arrived here last Friday from the New Orleans waterway convention in a state of collapse, suffering from what was denominated ptomaine poisoning, were fully recovered today. It is believed that something they ate on the train caused the poisoning.

AUTO INTO RIVER

TOURING CAR WENT THROUGH OPEN DRAW OF BRIDGE LAST NIGHT.

FOUR MEN AND 2 WOMEN VICTIMS

They Were Seen to Rise in the Water and Then Sink—Life Preservers at Hand, but Could Not Be Loosened.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—A big touring car with four passengers, two women and four men, plunged into an open draw at the Jackson boulevard bridge last night at 11 o'clock and all were drowned.

The accident was witnessed by Dr. A. E. Bertling, who, with his wife and a couple of friends, were in another automobile at the side of the boulevard, waiting for the bridge to be closed. None of the bodies have been recovered and their names are not known.

According to Dr. Bertling, there was no guard chain or policeman at the opening. He was barely able to see that the bridge was open, the night being foggy.

As the car dashed by him he shouted to the driver that the bridge was open. The chauffeur did not hear him, for the car did not slacken speed.

Dr. Bertling ran to the edge of the draw and in the darkness saw a man and woman struggling in the water below. They were screaming for help.

Dr. Bertling rushed to the bridge tender. He shouted to him to throw out life preservers. The man had them lashed to the side of his room and could not loosen them. He had no knife.

By this time the struggling persons were carried down the river in the swift current.

SONG MAY BE CALLED OFF

D. A. R. Wants Gov. Hadley to Consider Anthem They Decide Upon.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 8.—Mrs. William G. Boyd, of St. Louis, regent of the St. Louis chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has written to Gov. Hadley to inform him that the state society at its meeting to be held at Cape Girardeau this week, will try out three proposed state songs, and requesting him to withhold any action in the matter until that time.

Mrs. Boyd is of the opinion that one of the three songs may prove just the thing that Gov. Hadley and his special committee is looking for.

Gov. Hadley said last night that no steps will be taken by his committee toward the selection of a state song from the scores of samples submitted until the Daughters of the Amer-

If the song agreed upon by the society as the most suitable state anthem meets with the approval of the governor's special commitee, then the contest which is waging among the poets and songsters of the state will be called off and no prize will be awarded.

GAME IS PLENTIFUL

Wild Geese Literally Eating Up Farmer's Corn Crop.

E. W. Cottrell is back from Chamois, where he enjoyed a four days' outing, says the Jefferson City Post. He says game is more than plentiful down there—in fact, wild geese are doing considerable damage to corn in shock and on stalk.

Just before he left a farmer sent in a relief call to Chamois by telephone. A big flock of geese had landed in his corn field and made things look miserable. Unless relief was promptly forthcoming, Mr. Cottrell fears that this farmer will not have enough corn left to fatten the meat for his own table.

He says his brother-in-law went out yesterday morning and bagged seven geese in less than no time. Quail are also plentiful down that way, and Mr. Cottrell saw innumerable coveys of them from the train coming home.

He was somewhat unfortunate on his trip. He was not equipped with a hunters' license, consequently he was obliged to come home with empty hands.

GLADSHE'SWOMAN

ATCHISON GLOBE MAN'S DAUGHTER TRIES "DOWNTOWN" THREE DAYS.

THEN WRITES HER "CONFESSION"

Document Contains No Campaign Material for Suffragettes—Some Things for the Wives of Sedalia to Read.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 8.—Miss Mateel Howe, of Atchison, has made a confession that will throw consternation into the camp of the suffragettes, as it will win the plaudits of men who find life an endless and everlasting struggle to solve the bread question.

Miss Howe is the daughter of E. W. Howe, editor of the Atchison Globe. She is a young woman of fine discrimination and sense, but, better than that, she is honest and fair. She has a better opinion of men now and she is not ashamed to confess it.

Miss Howe and her father ore chums. They have traveled much together, circling the globe two years ago. One evening she confided to him that she would like to work in the Globe office a few days, "just to get the hang of things" and see how a newspaper is made.

Miss Howe had the notion that men had the best of it in this world, and she resented the idea, but she was going to learn the truth, and she decided that a busy newspaper office was the place to get at the facts. She worked three days and went home and wrote her "confession."

"Now I have changed my mind and thank the fate that made me a woman," she said. "I no longer wonder that men are often irritable, nervous and cross. The men in my family can now come home, raise the roof, smash the furniture and scold me, and I will only smile sweetly and never notice it.

"Any man who can work in a down town office for ten or twelve hours a day and still keep his reason has a right to do anything he pleases when he gets home.

"If a woman wants a complete conception of what a man goes through every day of his life, just let her spend a few days working down town. It would be a good preparation for matrimony. Never again would she complain when her husband was cross."

Miss Howe says that when she promised to work in her father's office for a few days her idea was to sail down town about 9 o'clock, gossip a little with the force, dash off an article or two on the typewriter, have lunch and go home.

Instead, her father, who is indulgent to a degree with his child, but who wanted her to earn her wages, routed her out of bed when it was still dark. She was hurried through breakfast and out in the cold to run for a car. It was still almost dark But the car was full of men; no women.

When she got to the office she was given a corner with some other reporters. She sat down and started a conversation, but they all answered in monosyllables.

In a few moments each one grabbed his or her hat and rushed out. They came back at various times, rushed in, dropped down at their machines and began to write at a rate that grated on the young woman's nerves.

When they finished their mad race with the typewriter they rushed out again. She tried to write, but the combined noise of half a dozen typewriters almost drove her mad. She left her little corner and wandered around. Nobody noticed her, and nobody recognized her, except with a brief nod.

Her father, busy writing editorials, did not say it in words, but his manner gave her to understand that he expected her to earn her salary. Always before they had stopped to talk. Then she was the proprietor's daughter; now she was one of the force.

"There was not a quiet place to be found for a moment," she said in relating her experience. "There was not a room where I could go and be alone for awhile, and away from the rush and the noise. The terrible hurry, hurry, hurry, made me want to scream. How anyone could work at the tension that they all seemed to take as a matter of course was more than I could understand. There was not a suggestion of privacy for anyone.

"Whenever I tried to write on my own typewriter, bang went two or three others right under my nose, and at the same terrible rate. And teams were rushing by and the telephones were always ringing.

"I went out to lunch and ate with about fifty men, all eating at the same rate the typewriters seemed to affect. I began to feel that if I could not be quiet for a moment and get away from the noise, confusion and the people I should have a fit on the spot.

"In the afternoon a horrible earthquake sort of noise started from underneath. It was only the paper going to press, and nobody noticed it but me. It was too much and I grabbed my ha and ran. I could stand no more. I tore home. I went to my room and laughed out loud because I was alone. And then and there I decided that I was glad I was a woman and that I did not have to work in an office."

While in her room, with the door locked, Miss Howe sat down and thought of her long morning naps, of her quiet breakfast, her ease and comfort in her kimono, her ease and leisure through the day with her books, of the little work she did, and how she went about it slowly and as she pleased. When she watned to see her friends she went to see them, and there was always the quiet peace and blessed privacy of home.

"It seems to me the most terrible thing in the world to be surrounded by noise and people all day long, and never able to get away from it," she said.

"Even the women who work at home and work hard, do their work in quiet, in peace and privacy. No woman who has never spent a day in a downtown office can understand the strain under which her husband works. So when I write a book on how to be happy, though married, I shall send the woman down town to an office for at leat a week's work. I think she will have a good deal more sympathy for her husband and a good deal more patience when he is nervous and ready to fly to pieces if a door creaks."

THE QUIGLEY ROAD

MR. F. E. HOFFMAN, SENIOR, TOOK A RIDE OVER IT DURING THE PAST WEEK.

40 MILES AN HOUR OVER ROUTE

A Snake-Like Line That Traverses a Picturesque Country—Sedalian Believes That It Will Pay From the Start.

To the Democrat-Sentinel.

On my way from Southeast Missouri and Hoxie, Ark., to Springfield last week the writer stopped off at Mansfield to take a look at the "Quigley electric railroad," known now as the Kansas City and Ozark Southern, through the Ozark mountains to Ava, Douglas county, a distance of sixteen miles.

Mr. J. B. Quigley kindly got out his motor car, and with Mr. and Mrs. Wilder, Superintendent of Schools Knight and wife and myself, made a trip winding around the mountains at the rate of forty miles an hour to within one and one-half miles of the town of Ava, which has a population of 1,500, to which point the road is finished.

We were met by carriages and driven to that splendid hostelry, the Carter house, for a sumptuous dinner, which was greatly enjoyed by our party.

The railroad track is one continuous snake-like route, running through a picturesque country, where we enjoyed the beauties of nature, feasting the eye upon the gorgeous colorings of the foliage at this season of the year, and is long to be remembered. Returning to Mansfield, about 4 p. m., unfortunately it began to rain, so we were obliged to make an improvised canopy for our open motor car.

Our townsman, Mr. Quigley, was quick to see that our lady friends would not receive an unlooked for drenching, and attached a pole on each end of the car, and a rail on top, a canvas being thrown over it, and by holding up the canvas on each side we were able to keep the rain out, going at a lively rate. The car was named the "Quigley Aeroplane." The trip was enjoyed by its jolly occupants to the end.

The railroad track is laid with splendid white oak ties, and most of it is 60-pound steel rails, the entire track being well ballasted from the rocks and gravel along its entire route.

Its roadbed would do credit to and compare well with some of the best railroads in Missouri. It convinced the writer that its owners are up to date in building road beds.

The people of Ava and Douglas county can well congratulate themselves on the success Mr. Quigley has achieved in giving them the first railroad through the eastern part of the Ozark hills, which is within reach of the endless millions of feet of pine lumber and railroad ties. There is no question in my mind but that the road will be a paying investment from the very start.

Mr. Quigley deserves great credit for the nerve and push displayed in his enterprise, and forcibly reminds the writer of the splendid opportunity lost to Sedalia a few years ago by the city council refusing the Brooks and Hoffman franchise for an electric railroad to McAllister Springs and Miami, Mo., which would have given Sedalia business men one of the best producers of business ever presented.

There is a rumor afloat that Mr. Quigley will move to Ava when his road is completed, but he assured me that such a move is yet in the future. Sedalia could ill afford to lose such an enterprising citizen.—F. E. Hoffman, Sr.

TO SPEND $150,000

IN ERECTING SHAFTS FOR THE MISSOURIANS KILLED AT VICKSBURG.

FEDERALS AND CONFEDERATES TOO

Governor Hadley Favors the Movement Started by St. Louis Mayor as Result of Trip Down the Mississippi.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 9.—To secure a legislative appropriation for the erection of regimental monuments to Missouri troops who fell in the battle of Vicksburg is the purpose of Mayor Kriesmann, of St. Louis, and his fellow voyagers on the steamer Wells during the presidential trip to New Orleans.

Mayor Kriesmann, in a letter to Governor H. S. Hadley, outlines the plans and expresses the hope that the governor's good offices may be enlisted in the cause.

There were forty-two Missouri regiments engaged in this battle, of which twenty-five were federal and seventeen Confederate. The heaviest losses were suffered by the Missouri regiments on both sides.

Governor Hadley said he would gladly aid in obtaining a suitable appropriation for this purpose. He expressed the opinion that monuments would have been erected by the state long ago had it not been for the fact that for sixteen years the state has been tightly pinched for revenue.

It was necessary to veto a bill of this character several years ago on the sole ground that there was not sufficient revenue to permit of the expenditure.

This was the measure that the late General Stephen D. Lee urged the legislature of two years ago to pass. He spent several days here in its interest and at different times addressed both houses of the legislature.

Governor Hadley thinks that the sum of $150,000 ought to be appropriated for this purpose.

SERVICE WAS FINE

THAT OF DR. REUBEN A. TORREY AT THE TABERNACLE LAST NIGHT.

TWO THOUSAND PERSONS THERE

"Who Is the Wise Man?" Was the Evangelist's Subject, and It Was Presented In a Truly Masterful Manner.

(From Monday's Daily.)

The opening service of Dr. Reuben A. Torrey held last evening at the tabernacle made it very clear to the executive committee that the seating capacity of the temporary building is not any too much. Dr. Torrey acknowledged that as a rule a city of this size generally had four or five thousand people at the Sunday services. Last evening a conservative estimate would place the attendance at something over two thousand. It was quickly discovered also that the men who had come to lead this movement were not men of a small or cheap character. When Professor Charles Butler sang at the commencement even the ministers were astonished at the richness and effectiveness of his vocal work.

The large chorus choir was quickly brought under his control and the hymns, though new, were greatly appreciated. The first half hour of the meeting was in the nature of a song service, led by Mr. Butler, after which Dr. Carlos opened the meeting with prayer.

Rev. D. M. Claggett called the attention of those present to the following services: Two services in the tabernacle daily, one in the afternoon and another at night; morning local prayer meetings to be held every day in about ten or twelve homes, as mentioned in another part of the Democrat-Sentinel, and Saturday was announced for the rest day.

At this time Rev. Harold Cooper was called upon to introduce the Rev. Reuben Archer Torrey, of Chicago. Mr. Cooper said that the story of the great world wide revival was a story that was remarkable for the quality of its leadership. In Dr. Torrey the movement found a worthy head, and as the meetings in Japan, China, New Zealand and Australia were held by these evangelists the reports were astonishing even to the most hopeful.

At Melbourne alone there were 8,642 conversions reported. Then as they came to Great Britain the results were even more remarkable. In London alone about 17,000 people publicly acknowledged Christ as their Savior. With such a record of Christian activity, Dr. Torrey needs no introduction to any audience composed of reading people. His reputation has preceded him, and then Mr. Cooper called upon the doctor to address the audience.

To say that Dr. Torrey is a handsome man would not convey the idea. His presence and personality are such as to command respect. With all the precision of a lawyer he spoke on the subject, "Who Is the Wise Man?" the answer to this proposition being that the man who seeks to lead men to a knowledge of Christ and a personal Savior.

Four reasons were given showing that this was the wisest purpose of a man's life: 1, Jesus commanded it; 2, it was the great objective point of the Savior's life; 3, the value of a soul; 4, the results for this world and the next.

The vast audience listened with deep interest as the argument was presented almost like a lawyer before a jury, and many of them were wiping tears from their eyes.

The most noticeable feature of the address was the loyalty to the Bible shown. Every proposition was backed by Scripture and could not be refuted. Space will not permit the Democrat-Sentinel at this time to speak of the splendid solo sung by Mr. Butler, mention of which will be made tomorrow, but there is no question that for effectiveness and pathos it is the best which has ever been in this city or its surroundings. As the meeting closed, it was evident that a great movement, the power of which cannot be estimated, has commenced in this part of Missouri.

IT WAS CAUSED BY A LOVE AFFAIR

(From Monday's Daily.)

Prompt medical assistance frustrated the girl in her attempt, although her face and mouth were badly burned from the acid.

Dr. E. A. Wood was summoned, and later Dr. K. R. Barnum, the two physicians administering until the patient was out of danger.

Miss Hill had been keeping company with Rex Staats, a son of Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Staats. During young Staats' recent illness with typhoid fever she is said to have made him a daily visit.

The young man recovered from the illness last week, and, according to witnesses, is said to have cast her aside.

CHAS. FLECK DEAD

FOR A LONG TERM OF YEARS HE RAN AN ENGINE ON MISSOURI PACIFIC ROAD.

RETIRED ON ACCOUNT OF OLD AGE

Was Found Dead in His Room This Morning, Death Having Resulted From Heart Disease—Two Children Survive.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Charles Fleck, sr., one of Sedalia's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, was found dead in bed, attired in his night clothing, by John Isenberg, an M., K. & T. brakeman, at Mr. Fleck's home, 1002 East Third street, about 8 o'clock this morning.

Coroner F. R. Morley was summoned and pronounced death due to heart disease, with which Mr. Fleck had been suffering for some time past.

Mr. Fleck was almost 80 years of age, and for a number of years lived in the second story of his dwelling at the foregoing number. The first floor was occupied by A. H. DeClerq and family.

Mr. Fleck ate his meals at the home of Mrs. Mary P. Hill, 318 South Engineer avenue, and when he did not appear for breakfast this morning at the usual hour Mrs. Hill sent her son to his home to ascertain the cause.

The youth knocked at Mr. Fleck's door, and receiving no response notified the family down stairs. Mrs. DeClerq said she had not seen Mr. Fleck this morning, and John Isenberg, a neighbor, was notified.

Repeated knocks at the door by Mr. Isenberg likewise brought no response, and he broke open the door, finding the dead body.

Mr. Fleck ran an engine on the Missouri Pacific out of this city for a long term of years, and when advanced age caused him to retire he became employed as engine inspector. He retired from that position a few years ago on account of old age.

Mr. Fleck has two living children, Mrs. J. J. Reilley, of Okolono, Miss., and Charles Fleck, residing at Tyler, Texas. They were wired the news of their father's death during the forenoon.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until the children are heard from.

SUCCEEDS ROBYN AS ORGANIST

Mr. George L. Faulhaber, Also a Popular Former Sedalian, Writes to Democrat-Sentinel, Telling of the Advancement.

(From Monday's Daily)

The Democrat-Sentinel is in receipt of the following interesting communication from George L. Faulhaber, a popular former Sedalian, dated St. Louis, November 7:

"Dear Mr. Stanley: As a member of Calvary vestry I know you will be interested in an incident that took place today. Glenn Woods, a Sedalia boy, now teacher of music in McKinley High school, this city, has been honored as the successor of Prof. Robyn as organist and choir master of the Holy Communion Episcopal church.

"I say 'honored' because Prof. Robyn is considered the finest organist and choirmaster in St. Louis, and Holy Communion is one of the largest Episcopal churches.

"Mr. Woods made up his choir in part of the old Calvary choir when he was organist and choir master in Calvary. Mr. and Mrs. David Dodge, Mrs. Kate Houx and Miss Gertrude Faulhaber. Members of the vestry will remember how Glenn Woods was started in music by Calvary vestry, and no doubt will feel proud of his achievement.

"I hope and expect to see him the foremost organist and music teacher in this city."

The St. Louis Star of Sunday had the following in regard to Mr. Woods:

"Glenn H. Woods, who for a number of years was instructor of manual training in the high schools of Kansas City, was recently appointed to a similar post in the McKinley High school of this city.

"Mr. Woods is an accomplished musician, and will succeed Mr. Robyn as organist and choir master of the Episcopal Church of Holy Communion, where he is planning to organize and install a boys' choir. He will also conduct the musical work of the Arion club of Webster Groves, an organization of thirty male voices.

"While a resident of Kansas City Mr. Woods directed the Oratorie society, the Kansas City Choral club and the Ladies' Lyric club of that place. He also served five years as organist and choir master of the St. Paul Episcopal church.

"A few years ago Mr. Woods won two of the first prizes offered by the Missouri State Teachers' association for the best two musical compositions, and at the May festival, held about five years ago, had the distinction of winning first prize for the finest chorus conducting out of fourteen competing choruses, he being the youngest of the competing conductors."

A CHANGE IN TRAINS SOON

Rumor That Nos. 5 and 6 Will Come to the Main Line.

(From Monday's Daily)

Missouri Pacific trains Nos. 1 and 2, operated between St. Louis and Kansas City, after the opening of Gould's Western Pacific road, will be known as trans-continental trains, and, according to rumors today, will make only two stops between St. Louis and Kansas City, those being at Jefferson City and Sedalia.

From one in authority the Democrat-Sentinel learns that this is the present intention of the management of the Gould system.

When the change is made, trains Nos. 5 and 6, now operated over the river district, will be transferred to the main line to replace Nos. 1 and 2.

The intention of the Gould management is to have a straight train from St. Louis to San Francisco, and with the adoption of the foregoing plan such arrangements could be admirably perfected.

PEARY FOUND POLE

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY MEMBER SAYS COOK DID NOT.

CHESTER MET WITH SCIENTISTS

Explanation of Position Creates a Profound Impression on a Washington Audience—More Is Coming in Case.

Washington, Nov. 7.—That Dr. Frederick A. Cook could not have reached the pole, and that Commander Peary did attain the goal, were statements made Saturday night by Rear Admiral C. M. Chester, retired.

The officer was a member of the committee of the National Geographic society that passed upon Commander Peary's data and announced their convictions of their genuineness.

The lecture, delivered to scientists in the hall of the University club, created a profound impression, for it was practically the first utterance of an official of the geographic society, although given unofficially, which has flatly and openly cast discredit on Dr. Cook.

Admiral Chester contended that Cook erred in saying that at a certain point in his travels north he witnessed a remarkable sunset. If he had been at that point, the speaker continued, he would have found the sun high in the heavens.

The testimony of the Eskimos who accompanied Dr. Cook also was reviewed. The testimony, the admiral insisted, showed conclusively that the party witnessed the sunset at 81 degrees north, a considerable distance from the pole.

He declared that Dr. Cook's party would have been compelled to travel forty miles a day to have accomplished the trip, a speed that was impossible even under the most favorable circumstances.

The speaker made numerous references to the nautical almanac to disprove Cook's contentions and to prove those of Peary, and declared he would soon issue a statement proving his statements.

VAN RIPER IS HEAD

FORMER SEDALIA BANKER HAS FORGED TO THE FRONT IN ST. LOUIS.

PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN TRUST CO

Other Officers of Title Guarantee Co. to Help Manage the New Concern—Has a Capital of One Million Dollars.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—J. C. Van Riper, a former Sedalia banker, will be chosen president of the new American Trust company at the first meeting of the board of directors, November 10. Gustave W. Niemann and other officers of the Title Guaranty Trust company will also be chosen as officers in the new organization in the same capacity as they now bear to the Title company. Mr. Van Riper has 2,000 shares of stock in the new company, and Walker M. Van Riper has 30 shares.

The American Trust company was organized for the purpose of taking over the banking business of the Title Guaranty Trust company in the Lincoln Trust building.

Articles of incorporation of the new company were filed with the recorder of deeds Saturday, showing a paid-up capital of the American Trust company of $1,000,000. The company will do a general banking business in connection with the Title company, but under separate management, the purpose of the officers of the Title company being to operate the two branches of the business by different organizations. The Title company has been doing a general banking business under the direction of R. L. Rinaman, who will be connected with the American company.

Mr. Van Riper says that practically the same officers of the old company will be elected to manage the new banking institution, and that headquarters will be maintained in the Lincoln Trust building.

The Title Guaranty Trust company will continue to do a general title and real estate business and deal in debenture loans.

Since the Title Guaranty company bought out the Lincoln Trust & Title company and moved into the Lincoln Trust building, it has enjoyed a largely increased business, and since the establishment of the banking feature has built up a big business in that line.

A 'TEA-URN' MAKER

WHO IS NOW IN THE LIMELIGHT, ALTHOUGH IT IS GREATLY AGAINST HIS WILL.

HIS NAME IS GEORGE W. PYRKES

He's the Great Grandson In the Direct Line of Robert Burns and Resides In Obscure Corner of London.

Special Cable From the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 6.—There is one man in London who is beginning to wish he had never emerged into the limelight of publicity, and his name is George William Pyrkes.

The other day Mr. Pyrkes who is a maker of tea urns, and who has been with his presenet employers for over forty years, allowed his family history to be published to the world, and since that day he has been pestered by cranks all over the country, begging autographs, and other enthusiasts have come to his place of business and asked foolish questions by the hour.

The whole trouble has arisen from the fact that Mr. Pyrkes is the great-grandson in the direct line of Robert Burns, the great poet, and until recently no one was aware that a direct descendant was to be found in an obscure corner of London.

Mr. Pyrkes is the son of Anne Burns, the only daughter of Robert Burns, the poet's eldest son, who was married in London. Mr. Pyrkes' mother was the image of the great poet, with black hair and flashing eyes. The poet's eldest son, Robert, according to Mr. Pyrkes, was not everything he should have been, and spent a dissipated life in London.

The majority of the enthusiasts who are pestering Mr. Pyrkes are Scotchmen resident in London, and a few Americans of Scotch descent. Mr. Pyrkes has no actual relics of his great-grandfather, and even if he had he says that nothing would induce him to part with them. He is now 68 years of age, and hopes to die in harness, making tea urns, and occasionally singing over his work.

CARNEGIE A JOKER

SPRINGS A COUPLE ON THE KAISER ON THE OCCASION OF A RECENT VISIT.

VISIT ADVISED FOR THE EMPEROR

His Royal Highness Thought He Could Not Be Spared, But the Scotchman Soon Convinced Him to the Contrary.

Special Cable From the Hearst News Service.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Mr. Carnegie has been teaching the kaiser what he ought to be doing, and teaching him, too, by parable.

It will be remembered that the Scottish-American millionaire was a guest of the kaiser recently, and he has been telling Bertha Suttner, the well known down-with-the-rifles enthusiast, a little about the conversations he had with the kaiser.

The kaiser was in the best of tempers and could take a good joke in good part, even when it was against himself.

"You're a democratic American, aren't you?" said the kaiser. "Well, then, I suppoes you ought not to have a good word to say for kaisers and kings."

"Oh," said Carnegie, unabashed, "that depends upon the personality of the particular functionary. Anyway, you want to cross over to America yourself once. Your reception would be enthusiastic."

The kaiser replied that a trip across the water would interest him very much, but he couldn't go so far or be away so long. "They want me over here."

"Well, your majesty, I should just like to tell you a little story about that, if you won't be annoyed."

"Fire away!"

"Well, over in our country there was a pretty big manufacturer, who worried himself to death over his business, saw to every tiniest detail himself, etc. At last his director got around the old man and persuaded him he'd got to get away from business for a time, for his health's sake.

"The manufacturer accordingly went, and when he'd thoroughly rested came back looking like a new man. Next day he met the director and said to him: 'Say, you can't guess what a relief I felt when I once got clear away from you all.' 'Yes, I can guess,' retorted the director, 'because we all felt the same.'"

The kaiser laughed heartily at the anecdote, and by and by Carnegie got off another hoary one out of the same packet. The kaiser and Carnegie were talking about universal peace. Carnegie reckoned it was up to the kaiser to hurry along the earthly paradise some.

"Well, yes," said the kaiser, "I have always been a promoter of peace myself, only not quite on your method."

"Aha," quoth Carnegie, "but it is the method that matters. I want to tell you another little parable.

"A pair-horse landau was being driven along the road. A tandem passed it, traveling at a furious rate and making a deuce of dust. A little later the driver of the pair met the driver of the tandem and asked him what he meant by traveling at such a pace and frightening people like that.

"'I wasn't doing any harm,' said the tandem driver. 'I had only hitched on two horses, same as yourself, only by a little different method.'

"The driver of the pair scratched his poll a minute and then said:

"'Yes, but it's the method that makes all the difference.'"

Bertha Suttner says the kaiser was tickled to death over this anecdote. But what the kaiser was laughing at was the idea of Carnegie working off an old one like that on him.

HAVE A PICTURE OF "EDNA"

Girl Arrested in Sedalia Written of in "The Detective."

The November issue of The Detective, published at Chicago, contains a picture of Edna Patterson, a 17-year-old girl, arrested in Sedalia several months ago in company with Frank Brennan and Arnette Patterson, both of whom were sentenced to the Missouri penitentiary from Pettis county for terms of three and five years, respectively, for carrying burglars' tools.

The writeup in connection with the picture states that a further record of the girl is desired.

The Patterson girl was discharged after the men had been convicted, she having been retained merely as a witness for the state.

WON A FAIR BRIDE

MR. PAUL G. TREDWAY AND MISS MARY FRANCES ALLEN ARE MARRIED.

REV. FR. S. NEIBERG OFFICIATED

Bridal Couple Departed at Midnight for St. Louis, but Will Be at Home to Their Friends Here November 20.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Paul G. Tredway, of his city, and Miss Mary Frances Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Allen, of 716 West Seventh street, were united in wedlock at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, the Rev. Fr. S. Nieberg performing the ceremony at the parochial residence of Sacred Heart Catholic church.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of blue silk and was unaccompanied. Her traveling suit was of blue cloth, tailor-made, with hat and gloves to match.

In accordance with the wishes of the contracting parties, that the wedding be wholly unostentatious, only immediate relatives were present when the ceremony was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Tredway left last night for St. Louis for a ten days' bridal visit, and after Nov. 20 will be at home to friends in this city, the exact location not to be decided until they return.

Mrs. Tredway is universally conceded to be one of Sedalia's most refined and cultured ladies, whose pleasant smile and cheering words of kindness, both in prosperity and adversity, have won and retained for her a large circle of acquaintances, whose best wishes will be extended on learning of her marriage.

Mr. Tredway for the past fifteen years has been employed in the machine department of the Missouri Pacific shops, and is conceded to be one of the most efficient and skilled mechanics in the west, as well as one of the most loyal employes on the company's pay roll.

He is a genial, polished gentleman and his warmest admirers are those most intimately acquainted with him.

To the popular couple—and this is said advisedly—the Democrat-Sentinel extends its heartiest congratulations, and wishes for them a long life of wedded bliss.

LAID UP WITH LAME LEG

Mike McGinley Finally Had to Knock Off From Work at Store.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Mike McGinley, who on Friday, October 29, stepped with his right heel upon one end of a short piece of board, causing the other end of the board to tip up and strike him with force on a leader in the calf of his leg, and who since the accident has moved around with difficulty and also with a cane and a limp, was forced to relinquish his duties at the store at noon Friday and remain at home, where he also remained Saturday.

The injury does not cause Mr. McGinley any pain unless he moves around, and of course that is what he would insist on doing if he remained at the store, so he was finally induced to give the crippled limb the rest it needs, and it is believed he will be all right again in a few days.

In the meantime his routine duties at the grocery are being looked after by his brother, Frank, who retired from the mercantile world a couple of years ago, after a thirty years' siege.

One hundred and eleven applications were secured during the contest, which was for the months of September and October. Minister Churchill's Warning

Winston Churchill, the British cabinet member, who has sounded a warning that may be taken as semi-official to the militant suffragettes of Great Britain. In receiving a deputation of suffragettes at Dundee, Scotland, recently, after rebuking them for their tactics of pestering cabinet ministers, he said:

"I am quite sure that while the tactics of silly disorder and petty violence continue there is not the slightest chance of any government that will be called into power, or any house of commons which is likely to be elected, giving you the reform which you seek."

He prophesied that the next parliament will be less friendly to the cause of "Votes for Women" than the last.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors

AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Latest Cuticura Skin Book.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

REMARKABLE CASE

A BASS VOICE IN A YOUNG GIRL REPORTED BY A BERLIN LARYNGOLOGIST.

HAS REACHED HAR SIXTEENTH YEAR

Larynx and Vocal Chords Much Larger Than Those of Ordinary Females, Especially the Vocal Chords.

Special Cable From the Hearst News Service.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Dr. Scheier, the well known larynologist, related before the Berlin Larynological society this week a remarkable case of a bass voice in a young girl, which had come under his notice. According to the etiquette of the profession he was obliged to conceal the name of the young lady in question, who is likely, however, to become known before long.

It appeared that when the young girl reached her 16th year and was developing into young ladydom, her pretty soprano voice suddenly broke, like a boy's, but instead of passing through the uncomfortable stage in which a boy looks and feels such a fool, the female voice was changed quite suddenly into a full and rather deep barytone. The young woman spoke with a bass note and could sing right down to the lower C.

Startled by this peculiarity, her parents tested her on the high notes, and found that she had kept also the soprano compass, easily reaching the high A, and with a trifle of strain even the high C.

A medical inspection showed that although in all other respects the possessor of the double voice was a properly developed female, the larnyx and vocal chords were much larger than those of ordinary females, the vocal chords being particularly unusual.

The only deficiency in the female voice was that there were apparently some small gaps in the middle of the female compass. From the middle G to C the notes were somewhat hoarse and strained.

It was concluded by the medical faculty which considered the case that in contrast to other cases of female barytones (usually due to temporary disturbance of the female development) this was a case of a female actually born with a male larnyx, and that no operation would avail as there was and is every probability of the barytone voice remaining. There was no evidence to show whether the young woman would retain her clear and soprano compass.

The only known comparison is in the case of those youths who, having an unnatural construction of the larnyx, retain naturally their treble compass after the voice has broken. But they in almost all cases have lost the barytone voice altogeher.

A SEVERED FINGER

LED TO THE ARREST OF A NOTORIOUS CRIMINAL BY THE ENGLISH POLICE.

GRIM RELIC TO SCOTLAND YARDS

Was Compared to Other Finger Prints, and From the Clew Obtained Guilty Man With Missing Digit Was Arrested.

Special Cable From the Hearst News Service.

London, Nov. 6.—"The Clew of the Severed Finger," a thrilling detective story, might be founded on a real incident in the London police annals of this year.

Patroling a Clerkenwell street at night, a policeman found a man's finger impaled on a spike surmounting a gateway.

He took the grim relic to Scotland Yard, where a print of its markings was taken and compared with the other finger prints in the Rogues' gallery.

It was thus proved to belong to the right hand of William Mitchell, a notorious thief.

A man with a bandaged right hand was eventually found among a gang of pickpockets in South London, far away from the place where the finger was found.

He protested his innocence, gave his name as Harry May, and indignantly asked how he could pick pockets with a hand like that.

But the evidence of the severed finger was conclusive, and "Harry May" confessed that he was really William Mitchell, and that his finger was torn away while he was climbing the gate in Clerkenwell.

The police proved a number of previous convictions against Mitchell, who was sentenced to twelve months' hard labor as a "suspected person."

SCENT OF SCANDAL

THE RECENT CAMPAIGN IN GOTHAM WAS MOST BITTER IN HISTORY.

PEOPLE WHO SWINDLE UNCLE SAM

Effort to Purge the Custom Service of Corruption—Death of Philanthropic Gentlemen—Champagne Climbs.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, Nov. 6.—Over the ashes of more than a milion dollars, consumed in the fires of the city campaign just ended, New Yorkers are today taking stock of the weird workings of the most bitter battle ever waged in the political history of this town. Never can the party veterans here remember a campaign in which more money and mud was thrown to the raging winds than in the past five weks of partisan strife.

Careful count in the headquarters of the three warring camps shows today that real money to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars has been spent by backers of each candidate for mayor. Small fortunes were reaped by scores of printers, adverstising men and renters of audience halls. Cab and motor companies are left thousands of dollars richer for the perigrinations of the armies of orators, while Uncle Sam has gleaned into his coffers at least $50,000 for postage on tons of campaign literature.

Many a mile of subway could have been built for poor, congested old Manhattan by the gold that the bosses have scattered to make a fight for the control of the political fortunes of the people of Greater New York.

Customs Crime.

Scandals that will shake to the depths the business and political world of the nation are today believed to be brewing in the brand new customs house and about the wharves and importing districts of this town. Seldom has the threat of exposure moved so mightily the men engaged in activities, as extensive as those of the importations of this harbor, in all the history of graft probing in Gotham.

For years the business men of this port have smelled the scent of scandal rising high to heaven from every wharf and store where government employes are able to practice fraud with scarcely a chance for their superiors to check or even detect them.

Common knowledge has long shown the honest element in business affairs here that the channels of this country's greatest port of entry must be soon scoured clean for the benefit of the whole nation. While every effort is being made today to purge the customs service of much of the corruption that has already been uncovered, New Yorkers look for tremendous revelations from this source in the near future.

Mute Memorials.

Millions of dollars, quietly bestowed in great good works for the people of this city and country, are today bearing mute testimony to the life of John S. Kennedy, whose death is being mourned here today by the whole community.

Scarcely a tablet or other public reminder marks the philanthropic achievements of this modest gentleman, who scrupulously concealed his identity as the giver of some of the greatest charitable endowments in recent years.

Hospitals, libraries and funds for every need of the poor knew their founder in this silent philanthropist, though few of their host of beneficiaries were ever allowed to learn to whom they were indebted. While the benefactions of hundreds of much richer men were heralded far and wide, John S. Kennedy worked and gave treble their amount in secret. Though memorial tablets may not be flaunted in their faces, the people of New York will long honor and praise the man who lost himself in doing good for others.

Champagne Climbs.

Promising to make a bottle of champagne cost a whole $5 bill to the consumers of this staple of night life here, the new duty on bottled bubbles has just gone into effect in this city. From end to end of the white light district thick gloom is overhanging the victim of the advanced price, while no hope of relief is being held out by the proprietors of the gilded lobster palaces.

Upon the spenders alone, the importers declare, this tariff burden must fall in circles where yellow bills are broken each night in lavish entertainment. Little sympathy is today being wasted by the people of Gotham on the stricken champagne consumers of the Great White Way, though their plaint is being heard on every turn of the Tenderloin. Even with "wealthy water" held at $5 a pop, no one believes the thirst of the town will be seriously affected.

Croker's Coming.

Though the man who played pivot in many a city campaign in the past has been in town all election week, New Yorkers are today scarcely aware that old Dick Croker has seen the finish of the battle of ballots for the first time in many years.

No one now takes seriously the repeated rumors of the return to power of the banished boss of Tammany, and even eager interviewers have found it impossible to stir up a shade of interest in the arrival of this political veteran.

As a sage and adviser, the younger powers of Tammany hall may still turn to Croker in the last throes of a hard-fought campaign, but never again will the grizzled old 'squire of Ireland be an active power in his party.

Mr. Wentzleman's remarks on the occasion were so touching as to draw tears from the eyes of the honor guests, and were concluded by expressing the sincere wish that all present might be assembled together again at some future date.

It was near the midnight hour when refreshments were served, after which all departed for their homes, voting the affair a most charming success.

Those present were: Messrs and Mesdames J. L. Brooks, G. W. Anderson, J. B. Kraus, George Baker, C. A. Jones, Will DeBold, Dan Byard, W. E. Wentzleman, R. R. Higheyman, jr., Albert Schmidt, of Kansas City; R. Moore, of St. Louis; Edward Nicholson, of Green Ridge, and Miss Mayme Baley.

Supt. Buchanan's Joplin Work.

In eighteen months the Joplin public schools have grown from 126 teachers to 170. In 1908 the High school enrolled 380 students; in 1909 the total was 560, and it will this year reach 700.

On the recommendation of Supt. Buchanan, formerly of Sedalia, the board has just spent $1,050 for maps, globes and charts to facilitate the teaching of geography and history. There is a strong probability of a new $20,000 high school building being erected next year.

GRAND JURY WORK

BODY CONCLUDED ITS LABORS AND ADJOURNED THIS AFTERNOON.

FOURTEEN INDICTMENTS FOUND

None of the Accused Arrested, and May Not Be Until Tomorrow. —The Full Text of the Jury's Report.

(From Friday's Daily)

The Pettis county grand jury, which has been in session since Monday, completed its labors this afternoon.

The jury returned fourteen indictments against Sedalians, none of which will cause universal surprise, however.

The indictments are now in custody of Circuit Clerk C. W. Daugherty, who will retain them until tomorrow, when capiases will be given to Sheriff Henderson for the arrest of those who were indicted.

In their report to Circuit Judge Louis Hoffman, which report is given in the following, the jury recommended the holding of a special election to vote on the proposition of building a new county jail.

The jury's report in full follows:

Report of the Jury.

To the Honorable Circuit Court of Pettis County, Missouri: We, the grand jury empaneled for the November term, 1909, of the criminal division of the circuit court of Pettis county, Missouri, beg leave to report as follows:

Indictments.

The report upon our investigation of crimes committed in our county is embodied in the indictments returned herewith.

County Jail.

We have thoroughly inspected and examined the county jail, and find the following:

First: We find it clean, and in such condition as could be expected of an old jail; that it is in a very unsanitary condition, unhealthy and unsafe. The residence of the sheriff, adjacent to the jail, while the same may serve for several years in the present condition, yet, it is unsanitary and an unhealthy resort for the home and family of the sheriff, who is obliged to reside there. The prison for males and females should be separated by a solid wall, which would be difficult to accomplish with the present jail. Since we are to recommend the building of a new jail, we leave that to be cared for in the plans, if our recommendation should be adopted.

Second: The jail is inadequate, and does not meet the needs of Pettis county.

We respectfully recommend that a new jail and work house be erected, to meet the needs of a county growing as Pettis county is now growing; to be in keeping with the other improvements in the county, and be located in such place as will best subserve the public needs.

In order that this may be carried out, we recommend that the county court take such steps as may be necessary to provide for the construction of such a new jail and work house, as the interests of the county may require, and submit the same to a vote of the people of Pettis county at the earliest practical time.

Court House.

After examining the court house, and the repairs made during the summer, we find the same in good condition.

We would recommend for the offices of the circuit clerk and county clerk additional vault room and filing cases for equipment thereof, to meet the public demands, and thereby relieve the present congested condition of the public records in those offices.

We further recommend that the county court take such steps as may be necessary to install and maintain at the expense of the county, a light in the dome of the court house at night.

County Home.

The grand jury in behalf of the citizens of Pettis county express sorrow for the loss of the keeper of the County Home, Mr. H. C. Hatton, recently deceased. We feel that his death is a loss to the county in caring for the unfortunate poor, and express our sympathy to his bereaved widow, who so faithfully assisted him in his good work.

We visited the county home, and are pleased to report that the farm, improvements, buildings and general appearance present a thrifty, homelike place for the poor, and the citizens of the county are to be congratulated upon the faithful management it has had, and now continues to have, where the unfortunate poor of the county have a home in which they are made comfortable and supplied with all the necessities and wants of life. Our recommendation is that the present methods of management and care for the place be continued.

County Roads.

We have visited the work done by the county prisoners on the public roads of our county, and most heartily recommend a continuance of this work, which, in our opinion, will in a few years add greatly to the value of land in our county, and is a great step forward in the improvement of our roads.

We approve of the working on the public roads those persons convicted of vagrancy, malicious trespass and all violators of the statute law and offenses against public morals and decency.

County Officials.

We beg to state and report that we have examined the offices of the county officials, to-wit: collector, treasurer, county clerk, circuit clerk, recorder, sheriff, assessor and probate judge and find that the books and records of those offices are kept in a neat and business-like manner.

We desire most heartily to congratulate all of the county officials for the able and efficient manner in which they have conducted, and are conducting the business interests of the county, and their various offices.

We recommend that a copy of this report be delivered to the county court of Pettis county.

We take this special occasion to thank the Honorable Judge Louis Hoffman, Prosecuting Attorney Harvey D. Dow and the sheriff, M. T. Henderson, and his deputies, and the circuit clerk, C. W. Daugherty, and his deputies, upon the kind and courteous treatment accorded us, and the prompt and efficient manner in which they endeavored in every way to help this body in their labor.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

ON THE FIRING LINE

WHAT IS BEING ACCOMPLISHED IN THE WORK OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

BUILT LITTLE MISSIONARY SHOP

Named It "Hiram Brigham," In Honor of the Pioneer Worker In the Gilbert Islands—Great Demand for Bibles.

One of the current magazines has a lengthy editorial on foreign missions, which says, among other things, that while Christ did command us to preach the Gospel to every creature, we are not commanded to feed and educate and clothe them.

Query—If that man commanded a servant to put a piece of ground into corn, would he be satisfied if the servant took the seed and scattered it promiscuously over the weeds and brush that covered the unbroken ground?

The Congregational Sunday school built a little missionary ship last year and named it for the pioneer missionary to the Gilbert islands, Hiram Bingham. It has just made a prosperous journey of over 4,000 miles, from San Francisco to these islands.

The report says: "Every Bible brought by the Hiram Bingham was sold within an hour after the sale opened. Everything in printed form, hymn books, geographies, etc., was eagerly sought. Two hundred people stood around the doors wanting Bibles and hymn books after the supply had bten exhausted."

For every 500 people in the United States there is one christian minister, one for every 114,000 in Japan, one in every 165,000 in India, one in every 220,000 in Africa and one for every 437,000 in China.

A missionary of wide experience said: "I have seen the semi-civilized and the uncivilized; I have lived with the christian native, and I have lived, dined and slept with the cannibal; but I have never yet met a single man or woman or a single people that your civilization without christianity has civilized. Wherever there has been the slightest spark of civilized life in the southern seas it is because the Gospel has been preached there; and wherever you find in the island of New Guinea friendly people, or a people that will welcome you, there the missionaries of the cross have been preaching Christ."

It is the weak nerves that are crying out for help. Then help them, don't drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Vitalize these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how fast good health will come to you again. Test it and see. Sold by D. I. Wilcox.

The Dr. Casto Medical Co's. Wonderful Inhalatorium

Consumption.

MISS OPAL EVANS.

Miss Opal Evans is a very attractive and popular lady of Eldon, Mo., who sought our aid some months ago none too soon, for upon examination we found her with a terrible cough and suffering from all the early stages of Consumption, with the ever present germs of that dreaded disease invading her whole system, which verified upon microscopical examination, but we are pleased to say that her condition has yielded to our Inhalatorium treatment, combined with our Antitoxine injections. One lung was much involved with large cavities and we were obliged to make a number of injections directly into the lung tissue to overcome the disease. She is now out of danger and wonderfully improved.

Dr. Casto, Chief Physician of the Dr. Casto Medical Co.

Dear Doctor—Words fail to express the high appreciation with which I regard your wonderful method of treatment of lung disease. Last winter I contracted a heavy cold that settled deeply into my lungs and side. I could get no relief. My parents became alarmed and concluded to seek the best medical aid obtainable. My father placed me under your care and after a three months' course of your Inhalatorium treatment, I can say that the results are most satisfactory and it is a pleasure for me to recommend you as a specialist of great skill in the treatment of such conditions. Yours truly,

OPAL EVANS.

Tuberculosis.

MRS. E. F. SPICKERT.

Mrs. Spickert is a very estimable lady, the wife of E.F. Spickert, residing at 213 S. Moniteau avenue, early last spring. Mrs. Spickert consulted us in regard to her condition. After a careful examination, we found her suffering from marked symptoms of tuberculosis. She came to us in time, as Consumption runs in her family, her mother having previously died with that disease. She was quite fortunate in coming when she did, as hereditary subjects often break down very quickly. She was immediately placed upon a three months' course of our Inhalatorium treatment with the most beneficial results. Her disease has been arrested and she is now out of danger and expresses herself with much gratitude.

Dr. Casto, Chief Physician of the Dr. Casto Medical Co.—Dear Doctor:

It is with a feeling of deepest gratitude that I express to you my greatest appreciation for the great benefit I have received from taking a three months course of your wonderful Inhalatorium treatment. Last spring I developed all the symptoms of tuberculosis and was rapidly growing despondent, but thanks to your advanced methods for the treatment of such conditions. All my troubles have disappeared and I just feel fine.

Ever yours,
MRS. E. F. SPICKERT,
213 S. Moniteau.

FORMER SERVANT

WAS THE FIRST WITNESS SATURDAY IN THE STEINHEIL MURDER CASE.

FOUND WIDOW BOUND AND GAGGED

Gag Was Not In Her Mouth, But On a Pillow On Which Her Head Rested — Hands and Feet Were Loosely Bound.

Paris, Nov. 6.—Madame Steinheil was not called to the stand today in her trial for the murder of her husband and stepmother.

The police witnesses introduced an effort to show there were no evidences of a genuine character to support the claim of the widow that robbery was the motive.

The first witness was Remy Couillard, formerly a servant in the Steinheil home, who found Madame Steinheil bound and gagged. He said today the gag was not in her mouth, but near a pillow on which her head rested; that her hands were tied in front of her, and that the bands on both hands and feet were tied loosely.

The prisoner constantly interrupted the witness, declaring he was lying.

KILL 'EM WITH A CLUB

Cyclone Highleyman Is Going Out After Rabbits.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

W. H. Highleyman, the chauffeur, automobile race promoter and insurance writer, is contemplating a rabbit hunting expedition south of Smithton, probably Wednesday of this week, and expects to bag all the game in that section of the country.

"I never use a gun," Wilbur said yesterday; "instead, I throw rocks at the rabbits and when close enough I kill them with a club."

"Cyclone" Highleyman's statement may be taken for what it is worth. He may have the fastest machine in Sedalia, but he can't kill game that way, his friends say.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

There is but one way to cure an old sore or chronic ulcer, and that is to remove the cause that produces and keeps it open. No matter where located, any sore that remains until it becomes chronic does so because of impure blood; the circulation constantly discharges its polluted matter into the place and it is impossible for nature to heal the sore. S. S. S. heals sores and ulcers by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of taint or impurity from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. No local application reaches below the infected flesh at the spot, and for this reason can have no curative effect on a sore or ulcer; while such treatment is being used alone, the germs and impurities are constantly increasing in the blood and the sore is bound to grow worse. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood and enriched and purified the circulation the place begins to take on a more healthy appearance, the different symptoms show improvement, the flesh around the ulcer gets firm, new skin and tissues are formed, and aided by pure, rich blood, nature provides a perfect and lasting cure. Under the tonic and blood-purifying effects of S.S.S., the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be greatly benefited by its use. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.
